BRITISH WON'T BUILD AGAINST THIS COUNTRY

England Will Cooperate, M'Donald Tells League Assembly

20 POINTS IN PACT
Believe Naval Agreement Will Be Completed Before Adjournment

Geneva.—(AP)—The British government "declines absolutely to build against the United States," declared Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald in his disarmament speech before the League of Nations assembly to-day.

"That is not only the word of a labor government. I think I can say it is that of a conservative government."

MacDonald announced that the Anglo-American naval agreement probably would contain twenty points. "Only three of these points are outstanding," he said. The labor leader expressed belief the agreement would be completed before the adjournment of the league assembly.

The labor premier announced that Great Britain had decided to sign the optional clauses for adherence to the world court. He believed all units of the British commonwealth would do likewise.

PROBLEM OF SECURITY
An atmosphere of expectancy permeated the league assembly when the British labor leader began his address.

The work of the league will go forward and establish the foundations of world peace and the problem of the league of nations is the problem of security, he said.

"The pact of peace is still a castle in the air and the work of the league to build up a foundation for it," he said.

MacDonald declared he never believed the Hague conference could be held.

MacDonald said the situation in Europe was not a racial conflict between Jews and Moslems but merely a struggle for power and security.

Great Britain, as the mandator of the league, will increase its efforts to find a remedy to prevent the recurrence of the outbreaks, he said.

One of the greatest risks of war lies in the fact that some of us too heavily depend on the machine. "We must be the problem of disarmament the undivided minds. Still, the risk is breaking out in now much than the hope of maintaining peace."

He emphasized that Anglo-American negotiations are in no way conspiring against other nations.

Dealing with the economic situation, the British prime minister said he assembly of the league must face the problem of disarmament.

MacDonald recommended the transformation of political agreements into economic agreements which would make for economic freedom.

U. S. TRIP UNCERTAIN
Prime Minister Ramsay Mac-Donald held the center of the stage as the assembly of the League of Nations got to its first real work.

British premier, a speaker before the assembly today, had the satisfaction of hearing his informal remarks yesterday taken as striking theme of the entire trend of two day international relations. Two chief facts were gleaned from long informal conversations with foreign correspondents.

First of these was that Mr.
MacDonald's proposed American trip is not nearly so certain as it was.

Forest Fires Sweep Northern Wisconsin

MEN AND RAIN ARE NEEDED TO FIGHT FLAMES

No Towns Are Endangered
Yet, but Conflagration
May Spread

BULLETIN
Antigo.—(AP)—Latest reports on the forest fire situation in this district put two small fires at Kempster and White Lake in Langlade co and another just north of the county line in Oneida co near Pelican. About 25 men are fighting a fire at Chote.
The fire was not endangering timber as yet, most of the area burned having consisted of slashings.

Superior.—(AP)—Fire wardens today reported the forest fire in the Mogah forest district about 10 miles north of Iron River was partly under control though the efforts of 300 men who worked until exhausted.

The fighters used back firing methods to control the fire after the wind failed to change. Approximately 3,000 acres were burned of the 30,000 in danger.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
Forest fire situation more serious in its implications than in actuality today, confronted northern Wisconsin.

While thousands of acres in two widely separated sections have been burned over by more than a dozen fires, no towns have been endangered, nor has any timber of value gone up in flames. But unless rain comes soon to dampen woods made tinder-dry by weeks of hot weather, state wardens envision a possible repetition of the 1925 conflagration.

Many million feet of merchantable timber was burned at that time.
Lack of men as well as lack of rain provided a problem for those combating the flames. In the Lake wood district, of Oconto co, where three fires were burning, Conservation Officer Phil Warner said he had been unable to induce many settlers to help in the fight, and as a result saw relief only in rain.

NO RAIN IN SIGHT
Weather forecasts today promised only a continuation of the hot, dry spell which has lasted for more than three weeks and there was no indication that high winds would abate.

Tourists who failed to extinguish campfires were blamed for many of the blazes, while the winds which scattered embers for thousands of feet were considered a contributing cause.

The fires are confined principally to three counties, an Associated Press check determined, but it was said that flames might start up in others because of the extreme dryness of the woods. Estimates of the acre-

KOHLER CASE IN COURT WEDNESDAY

Eau Claire Judge to Hear Arguments in Demurrer
Filed by Governor

Madison.—(AP)—The first court hearing of a civil suit brought to remove Governor Walter J. Kohler from office for alleged violation of the corrupt practices act will be held here Wednesday before Judge James Wickham, Eau Claire.

Although the case has been taken from Dane co to the circuit court of Sheboygan co, Judge Wickham will hear arguments in the demurrer interposed by Kohler's attorneys in the Dane co circuit court room.

The governor will be represented by Harry L. Butler, Madison and Edwin S. Mack, Milwaukee. Special counsel representing the state, are Harold M. Wilkie, Madison and Walter D. Corrigan, Milwaukee.

In their demurrer, Kohler's attorneys contend that a forfeiture of office action, under the corrupt practices act, cannot be brought against a constitutional officer, and that the only method by which he can be removed is by impeachment.

The suit against Kohler is brought by the state on the petition of Glen D. Roberts, Alvin C. Reis, Philip LaFollette, and William T. Evans, four prominent progressive Republicans of Madison.

They contend that more than $100-000 was spent in Kohler's behalf to obtain the nomination and election.
If Judge Wickham sustains the demurrer, he will order the case dismissed. If he overrules the de-murrer, he will order the case to trial in Sheboygan co circuit court.

It is expected, however, that no retrial which way he rules, his decision will be immediately appealed to the Supreme court.

Judge Wickham is presiding over the case because Judge Voigt of Sheboygan asked to be excused from doing so.

Fine Princess $5,000 In Turkish Libel Suit

Constantinople.—(AP)—The Turkish courts today condemned the Princess Chivkhar to pay $5,000 damages to Madame Saidi, the former Saidi Worth Speckles, Kansas farm girl and divorced wife of John D. Spreck-les, Jr., San Francisco millionaire, in the final outcome of the famous Turkish scandal libel suit.

In her edition Madame Saidi, who was once Princess Squad Chakir, charged the Princess Chivkhar had misused her name in a divorce suit against her husband, Selim Bey. The Egyptian princess Chivkhar had charged unfaithfulness and cited Princess Squad Chakir as correspondent.

A moonlight ride on the Bosphorus in 1924 was the origin of suits and counter-suits embroiling Madame Saidi and the Egyptian Princess.

In April, 1923, Princess Chivkhar was fined five lire (about $1) by the penal court of Istanbul for insulting the American born former wife of Princess Squad Chakir.

Princess Chivkhar, former wife of King Fuad of Egypt, sued her husband Selim Bey for divorce for his alleged indiscretion in taking the Bosphorus ride with the Kansas princess. A fine of ten Turkish pounds was assessed against her in 1925 in a suit brought by a Madame Saidi.

The case went through the courts of original as well as appellate jurisdiction, after Madame Saidi had been accused by Princess Chivkhar early in 1925.

Shifts Wrong Gear; Mate Is Near Death

Neenah.—William Becker, who lives three miles southeast of Freemont, is in a serious condition at Theda Clark hospital where he was brought Monday afternoon after he had been injured by a car driven by his wife. Mrs. Becker was about to start the car and supposed it was to back out of the garage but instead it started ahead with a bound and plunged the husband up against a work bench in the garage. His stomach was torn open and the tissues of his chest and intestines badly torn.
It is doubtful if he will recover according to the attending physician.

CHARGE ANTIGO MAN DROVE WHILE DRUNK

Must Pay Fine of $50; Loses
His Drivers' License for 6 Months

Fred Bentley, Antigo, was fined $50 and costs by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Tuesday morning when he pleaded guilty of drunken driving. The judge also ordered that Bentley's driver's license should be revoked for six months.

Bentley was arrested about 3 o'clock
Monday morning in the village of Black Dew, by John Deery, village constable. His arrest was made after Constable Deery saw his machine being driven in an erratic manner down the main street of the village.

The Antigo man was brought to the county jail where he was held until Tuesday morning.

Another charge against Bentley, that of driving his machine without license plates, was dismissed by the judge when Bentley proved that he had already made application for license.

Up to noon Bentley had not yet paid his fine but he was planning to sell his car to do so. If he does not pay he must serve 30 days in the county jail.

SUMMERLIN BECOMES ENVOY TO VENEZUELA

Washington.—(AP)—George Sum-merlin, Rayville, La., now minister to Honduras, has been transferred to Venezuela, as American minister there.

This announcement was made today at the White House with the further statement that the transfer would take place almost immediately.
A successor to Mr. Summerlin in Honduras has yet to be selected.

Summerlin's wife, Mrs. W. C. Cook, of Sioux Falls, S. D., who accompanied him, has resigned some time ago.

POLICE NAMED IN "SHAKEDOWN RING"

Grand Jury Action Possible in Los Angeles Investigation

Los Angeles.—(AP)—Possible grand jury action was expected here today upon two reports, one by the federal prohibition office and another by a confessed bootlegger, naming a large number of Los Angeles policemen as members of a "shakedown ring" exacting tribute from the illicit liquor trade.

The federal prohibition office reported that 62 policemen of the metropolitan area, hanging from captains down, had been named by federal investigators as members of the ring.

At the same time it was disclosed that Harry D. McDonald, a bootlegger, had made a statement to District Attorney Burton Fitts implicating 20 policemen in the alleged operation. The police, who declared he was "tired of the continued tribute exacting by the police," was reported to have charged that the officers instead of turning in the liquor they confiscated in raids, sold it to bootleggers from whom they were receiving "protection money."

District Attorney Fitts indicated that he might lay the matter before the county grand jury today. Federal officials said they would take no further action in view of Fitts' inclination to investigate.

HEFLIN'S SON FACES DRUNKENNESS CHARGE

Phenix City, Ala.—(AP)—J. Thomas Hefflin, Jr., son of the senior United States senator from Alabama, was in jail here early today on charges of drunkenness and violating the state prohibitions law. E. M. Haines, of Standing Rock, Ala., his companion also was in jail charged with operating an automobile while intoxicated.

Police Sergeant H. A. White today said both Hefflin and Haines were endeavoring to furnish bonds. Relatives of Hefflin from Columbus were expected here shortly.

EXPERT READY TO DIAGNOSE BUSINESS ILLS

Wisehaupt Starts His Five Lectures Here at High School Tonight

Howard J. Wisehaupt arrived in Appleton yesterday all primed to blow the lid off Appleton business, difficulties and problems in the series of five addresses which start tonight at Appleton high school when he will talk on Success of Failure.

While tonight's lecture is the real opening of his series, Mr. Wisehaupt spoke this afternoon at a joint meeting of Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs at Conway hotel.

Nearly 200 men crowded the dining room to see what manner of man this Wisehaupt is and he started off in a way that presages a most interesting series of night talks this week.

Tomorrow night Mr. Wisehaupt will discuss Human Nature and Business Profits. He has a different approach each night and each talk is based pretty much on what he and his associates have observed in Appleton.

Mr. Wisehaupt has no set speeches which he delivers in every town.
Each place he visits presents different problems and he tackles them in different ways, prescribing remedies indicated by his diagnosis of business ills.

According to word from Stites Mr.
Wisehaupt has visited, his strength in the diagnosis he makes and in the sometimes stringent remedies he proposes. His theory is that the proper name for a spade is a spade and he doesn't go in much for namby-pamby praise just to make a good fellow of himself.

Mr. Wisehaupt lectures here are sponsored by the Appleton Chamber of Commerce and The Appleton Post-Crescent. The talks start at 8 o'clock and he talks an hour and quits.

ALCHEMY ADVANCED TO NEW STAGE, REPORT

Wellington, New Zealand.—(AP)— Alchemy, the immature chemical research by which medieval students in the old world sought to trans-mute baser metals into gold, has been advanced to a hitherto unattained efficacy by two chemists of the Antipodes.

After fifteen years of exacting and dangerous research in their laboratory, two Christ Church workers, G.
F. Aston and H. W. Atack, claim that by use of an electro-magnetic process they have succeeded in transmuting certain elements into gold.

The results of their research are reported to be under the closest observation of the New Zealand and British governments.

A very important feature of their work is said to be the discovery by Aston of a new force, given the name of "chromadine," which is claimed to be ten times more powerful than electricity.

New Haven, Conn.—(AP)—The man who writes "framing" when he means "farming" probably is exposing a stunted trait of left handed-ness. Or it may be "left eyedness," which for the moment deceives his normal right-handedness.

These explanations of the familiar slips of reading and writing were given to the Ninth International Congress of Psychology today by Dr. W. F. Dearborn of Harvard university. He defined the cause as "ambidexterity" and said that in many instances it is due to improper muscular balance of the eyes.

The words are seen wrong in the first place, and in extreme cases may be remembered wrong by children, thus accounting for one of the difficulties in learning to spell.

Worse still is a complication of "left-handedness" which causes some children to reverse the spelling of whole words, so as to write "not"
for "ton". This condition, said Dr.
Dearborn, "is primarily associated with 'left handedness and left-eyed-ness.' Silent reading methods, replacing old 'fashioned oral reading exercises, aggravate this double left difficulty."

Books were found to be the leading cause of prejudices against alien races formed by Welsh school children according to study reported by George H. Green of the University of College of Wales.

He said that books outweighed either school or religious training as formers of prejudices. Motion pictures were found responsible for prejudices against Negroes and Chinese but the opinions of the Welsh children about Americans. Other prejudice forming factors were cited as newspapers, home and experience.

The business of continuing magazine stories on back pages in order to get the reader to turn to sections containing advertisements is under investigation by Dr. Harold E. Burr of Ohio State university. He has made up dummy magazines, some with ads segregated and others with reading matter placed so as to lead the reader to turn to pages with advertising. Thus far, he told the congress, no outstanding differences have been found in ability of the readers to recall advertisements as displayed under either form.

Ship Hit By Typhoon; 28 Are Missing

Manila, P. I.—(AP)—The steamer Mayon, owned by the Manila railroad was reported to have foundered in a typhoon yesterday afternoon off the Pasacao Ragay gulf. Of the 37 passengers aboard the steamer, only nine were reported to have been saved. No mention of members of the crew was contained in brief dispatches received here by railroad officials.

The provinces of Tayabas, Bulacan and Pampanga, all on the island of Luzon, apparently bore the brunt of the typhoon but no reports from these areas were available because communication lines were down.

The typhoon missed the main part of Manila, passing just north of the city. That vicinity experienced strong wind and rain throughout the day, reaching a maximum velocity of 60 miles an hour early this afternoon.

Damage was slight, however. A few frail alipa (palm thatched) houses were blown down and fallen trees interrupted tramway service in some places. The downpour covered some of the lower sections of the city with water.

After striking the Ragay Gulf off Pasacao in the southwest part of Luzon the typhoon moved in a northeasterly direction.

MAN IS HELD ON SUSPICION IN "FIREBUG" CASE

William Neuenfeldt Is Questioned by Authorities; Is Thought Insane

Police Tuesday were holding William Neuenfeldt, Alvinport, on suspicion that he is the man who, in the last two months, has been playing "firebug," setting fire to at least seven buildings.

Neuenfeldt, who is believed to be insane, has admitted and denied setting several of the fires. He talks rational and sane and is planning to arrange him for a sanity hearing in county court either Tuesday afternoon or Wednesday morning. Before his arraignment Neuenfeldt was to be questioned in an attempt to determine whether he really is the "firebug" for whom city and state officials have been searching for two months.

The man was arrested about 8:15
Monday night by Sergeant John Duval and Officer Carl Radtke after they trailed him for an hour. The officers started following the man after they saw him acting in a suspicious manner. His description tallied with that of a man who is believed to have set fire to a garage at the home of John D. Fenske, at corner of Marlborough and Randall-streets about 3:45 Sunday night.

After his arrest Neuenfeldt said he set off the fire with a cigarette. He also said he caused several of the other fires in the same manner. Later he denied this.

DEPUTY SHERIFF IS FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

St. Johns, Mich.—(AP)—William Kirby, 40, a Clinton co deputy sheriff living at Eureka, 40 miles northeast of here was found shot to death early today in a shed behind a county church six miles northeast of St.
Johns.

His body was found lying on its back in a pool of blood. The shed was about 100 feet from the church and was used for storing farm implements.

The sheriff's office is conducting an investigation. Kirby was 40 years old and had been a deputy sheriff for several years.

QUIET HIDES REAL TENSION IN JERUSALEM

Fear Is Expressed for Safety of Jews in Tiberias

Jerusalem.—(AP)—Fear was felt here today for the safety of Jews in Tiberias, the only center of great anxiety in Palestine today. Telephone communication with Tiberias has been interrupted and there is no information regarding what had occurred there.

Reports from other points indicated the country generally was quiet.
Tension exists in Jerusalem, however, because of reports that Moslems are arranging a meeting at the Mosque of Omar to protest against the high commissioner's policies.

At Jaffa Moslems started a protest demonstration yesterday but they were dispersed by the police.

Jewish authorities here have been informed that Moslems have resumed construction work on the Walling Wall, the sacred Shrine of Jewry which is the key to the present dispute between Arabs and Jews. It is stated that several new layers of stone have been added to the wall.
The government is investigating.

The British Trans-Jordanian frontier has been closed since the beginning of the trouble.

PLANS CONTINUE GUARD
British military aircraft continued their demonstrations over the Jordan frontier, showing the restless nomad bands of Arabs the power of the British government, which is prepared to strike hard in case further breaches of the peace develop.

Principal danger of recurring clashes seemed to exist in the north with the vicinity of Safed-somewhat remote, he said, from the south Stratfordshire regiment moved northward today to act in keeping the peace there.

The correspondent of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency reported the general situation was comparatively quiet and signs were accumulating that it was improved. Searches were underaken by the British authorities, he said, in the Arab villages in the vicinity of Jerusalem and 160 Arabs of Liffa, near Motza, were arrested.

Thirty-five Jews were arrested in Haifa and 17 in Tel Aviv on charges of possessing firearms for defense.
The high commissioner, Sir John Chancellor, was said to have refused numerous requests that scores of Jews imprisoned on charges of possession of arms be released or to permit distribution of arms among settlers in colonies in the north.

The Jewish Telegraphic Agency also reported that the Greek Orthodox church in the Christian community in Belian was attacked by Arab Moslems with resultant casualties, the exact number of which was not known. It was said that a conference of Jewish and Moslem leaders obtained an agreement which prevented an Arab attack on Tiberias in Galilee.

ATTACK TWO COLONIES
Arabs attacked two colonies in the Tiberias district but both were repulsed by inhabitants. One attack was on Hippiin, colony of Orthodox Jews, and other was directed against Mishmar, where the farm of Lord Melchett, British Zionist leader, is located.

Mishmar El Falz, first sholk of the Beni Sakhi tribe in Transjordan, who was arrested last week after reaching Jerusalem by a ruse, has been released on parole. He gave his personal assurance not to take up arms against Great Britain.

A colonial office official commu-

Seek Driver Of Car Which Fatally Injured Waupaca Man

AGED FARMER STRUCK DOWN NEAR HIS HOME

Dies in Hospital Tuesday Morning of Injuries Received in Accident

Waupaca authorities Tuesday started a search for an Illinois car which struck and fatally injured Frank Penney, 70, on the road in front of his farm home, about four miles west of Waupaca, at 9 o'clock Monday night.

Penney had started to cross the road from his farm home after a rain of water when he was hit. His grandson, Howard, 14, heard the fall and running outside saw his grandfather lying in the road. His head was crushed and his right leg was broken. He was immediately rushed to the Christoferson Brothers hospital at New London where he died at 7:45 Tuesday morning.

Mr. Penney was born on the farm where he was killed, and has lived there all his life.

Survivors are his widow, four children, Charles, New London; Harry Oshkosh; Mrs. George Stadtmueller, Neenah; and Claude, Waupaca; two brothers, Benjamin, on a farm near Waupaca, and Talford, Waupaca.

Funeral arrangements had not been made up to Tuesday noon.

STATE'S MORTALITY RATE IS LOWER THAN AVERAGE

Madison (AP)—Wisconsin's mortality in the second quarter of the current year is lower than the average, according to a summary released by the state board of health today.

The death rate was 10.7 per thousand of population, the report shows in announcing 7,790 deaths in the state for the quarter. This compares to 11.7 for the same quarter in 1928, 11.6 for 1927 and 11.7 for the last year.

Infant mortality declined by 124, and there was a decrease of 139 in deaths of persons 65 years and older.

Measles and whooping cough mortality was increased and the board reported undue prevalence of measles which may lead to serious outbreaks with the opening of school.

Every precaution is taken to exclude from school all children who are infected.

Epidemic meningitis receives special board mention as a result of 27 deaths during the three months' period. Physicians are urged to collect spinal fluid in suspected cases for examination at the state laboratory, the report says.

ILLINOIS CITY ASKS FORD FOR MEMORIAL

Lincoln, Ill. (AP)—Failing to persuade Henry Ford to leave the Postville courthouse in the present site on a main thoroughfare of Lincoln, citizens today were preparing petitions asking the Detroit manufacturer to leave a suitable memorial on the spot.

After spending all yesterday in conferences, Ford appeared determined to move the court house, which he purchased several weeks ago, from Mrs. T. T. Beach, to his "American Village."

A life size statue of Abraham Lincoln has been suggested as a marker for the site. The Postville courthouse, in which Lincoln pleaded as a lawyer in the years from 1840 to 1848, was offered for sale to the county of Logan and to the state before its owner, Mrs. T. T. Beach, sold it to Henry Ford.

WISCONSIN WEATHER

Increasing cloudiness, with probably showers in north portion tonight and Wednesday, and in south portion Wednesday; cooler Wednesday, and in west portion tonight.

GENERAL WEATHER

Fair weather has prevailed in all sections east of the Mississippi river during the past 72 hours, due to a high pressure area which overlies the middle Atlantic states. A deep "low" is centered over the western plains states and the upper Missouri valley, causing unsettled with scattered showers in those sections and the upper Mississippi valley. Temperatures of 80 degrees or above were reported yesterday from the upper lake region and the upper Mississippi valley. A "high" is moving in over the upper Missouri valley, bringing fair and much cooler to the northern Rock Mountain states. Unsettled weather, with probably showers, is expected in this section tonight and Wednesday, with falling temperatures Wednesday.

SUMMER OPERA SEASON CLOSES AT RAVINIA

Chicago (AP)—The annual summer season of opera at Ravinia ended last night with the production of Verdi's "The Masked Ball," with Elizabeth Reibner, Florence Macbeth, Giovanna Martinelli, Giuseppe Danese, and Virgilio Labarra in the cast. The pavilion was packed, the crowd overflowing onto the free seats and even into the walks and lanes.

The 1929 season has been described as one of the most successful from an artistic standpoint that Ravinia ever has enjoyed.

HUBER MAKES PLEA FOR LABORING CLASS

Lieutenant Governor Is Principal Speaker at Labor Day Celebration

Dubuque, Ia. (AP)—Prosperity of the laboring man is synonymous with general prosperity, Henry A. Huber, lieutenant governor of Wisconsin, said here today in an address at the Labor Day celebration.

"Labor cannot buy without having good wages and unless the laboring men of this country are paid a fair and reasonable wage commensurate with the service they render, the wheels of the factory must stop and goods and products of the forge and shop become and unpurchased on the market," he said.

The laboring man is three-fourths of the nation's buying power, the Wisconsin lieutenant governor explained and wages govern his purchasing ability. High wages bring greater prosperity, he concluded.

Advocacy of unemployment of legislation was advanced by Mr. Huber. He said this was the great need and explained that organized labor has "been the sponsor of practically all the labor legislation in existence anywhere."

He substantiated this by pointing to workmen's compensation laws, many political reforms and the eight-hour day.

The lieutenant governor traced Wisconsin's position in legislative enactments.

"You may have heard here in Iowa that industries are moving out of Wisconsin," he said. "All claims to this effect are refuted in the 1929 census." He denied that Progressive laws have harmed industry.

Mr. Huber denounced corruption in office and the excessive use of money in primaries and elections. He declared, "We must not be mindful of the dangers which threaten the stability of the government."

In concluding, the Badger extolled the late Senator William Kenyon, of Iowa, as a man who followed the political ideas of Abraham Lincoln, and the late Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin.

WERNER, JENSEN AT STATE Y. M. C. A. MEET

G. F. Werner, general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., and A. P. Jensen, physical director left Monday for Madison to attend the annual state convention of employed officers of associations. The convention will continue until Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Jensen attended a meeting of state physical educational directors Monday afternoon. Plans for state tournaments and other contests were made. The first meeting of employed secretaries was held Tuesday morning at the Madison association building.

WALWORTH OFFICIALS SEEK MISSING YOUTH

Lake Geneva (AP)—A search was started today by Walworth county authorities for Lloyd Malch, 16, son of a wealthy Lake Geneva contractor. His father believes he was kidnapped by an itinerant photographer.

The boy and the man disappeared simultaneously. No trace of either has been unearthed.

suspicion was directed to the stranger when it was recalled that he had been seen in the company of Lloyd and other Lake Geneva boys since he came here a week ago. When he left, he abandoned considerable clothing and other personal effects.

CHANGES ARE EXPLAINED IN TARIFF BILL

Senate Committee Tells Why It Amended House Measure

Washington (AP)—Detailed explanations of the changes made in the house tariff bill by Republican members of the senate finance committee were set forth in a tentative report issued for publication today by the committee majority.

Filing 80 printed pages, the documents advocated the proposed substitution of domestic for foreign values in the computation of ad valorem duties, asserted that the measure would raise the level of protection on agricultural commodities by 11 per cent and going through the bill individual schedules, gave the committee majority's reasons for the rates that it has agreed upon.

The elimination of all international difficulties in the administration of the tariff law was predicted as a result of adopting the proposed method of levying and valorem duties, all necessary investigations, the report said, would be made within their difficulties and occasional international disagreements. In addition, it was asserted that through the new method present inequalities resulting from differing production costs in various nations would be avoided.

Domestic value was defined as the equivalent of United States value under the present tariff law—freely offered wholesale prices of the imported or similar merchandise in American markets—except that there would be no deductions for transportation costs, commissions and other expenses.

The elimination of these deductions, the report said, will have the effect of greatly simplifying administration, and, if properly done, will result in no change in the amount of duty collected.

APPROVE FARM RATES

Going on to agricultural commodities, the report said that changes in this schedule, as compared with the house bill, where the result of additional evidence adduced a subcommittee hearings, and consist principally of "adjustments." Substantially, the report added, the committee had agreed to "the considerable increase in rates on agricultural products provided by the house bill."

Entailing an estimated increase of $28,000,000 in revenue from the schedule and raising the percentage of protection from 23 to under the present law, to 34 under the proposed legislation.

Explaining its rejection of the plea of farm organizations for a duty of 45 per cent on all vegetable oils, the committee majority said that it considered coconut oil, constituting 47 per cent of imports under this heading, the most important and with 99 per cent of imported coconut oil coming in duty free from the Philippines, it had not been deemed advisable to "disturb existing free trade relations with the islands." An increased duty on other fats and oils also was considered unwise.

In view of an increased domestic wool yield of about 33 per cent over the last six years, the report said, the committee decided that the increase of three cents a pound on raw wool proposed by the house was inadvisable and eliminated this provision. At the same time an increased duty on wool wastes was recommended on the ground that this intent of statute for wool is allowed to come into the country at a rate lower than that placed upon wool itself.

The most important change in the sugar schedules was asserted to be that reducing the rate on Cuban sugar from the 2.40 cents per pound figure proposed by the house to 2.20 cents. "The rates on all items in this schedule," the report said, "have received careful consideration and the changes made have been made with the interests of the consumers, producers, importers and manufacturers in mind."

In anticipation of the necessary formal action of the full committee, which must be taken before the bill is reported, the document in its preface said that the committee on

"TIRED" MAN GETS WRONG CAR WHEN HE USES POLICE PHONE

Evansville, Ill. (AP)—The distinguished looking, but disheveled gentleman learning against the lamp post at Dewey and Foster-aves, was tired; very. It had been a holiday, and you know how holidays are this hot weather.

He dragged himself to a police call box, the door of which was conveniently open.

"Send my car right over," he said, listlessly. "I'll wait." They sent over the car with the lengthwise seats and the screened windows. The man, too tired even to say who he was, climbed wearily aboard.

"Drive me light home," he said. "When he awoke this morning, expecting to be at home, he wasn't."

CLARK, SCHROEDER RETURNS FROM TRAIL CONSTRUCTION CAMP

Spend Two Weeks With 20 Eagle Scouts Blazing Five Mile Trail

M. G. Clark, valley scout executive and Cloyd Schroeder, deputy scout commissioner returned Sunday evening from Starret near Sawyer, Wis., where they spent the past two weeks at the Eagle Scout Trail Building camp. Mr. Clark was in charge of the camp, and Mr. Schroeder was his assistant.

Twenty eagle scouts from all over the state took part in the trail building program outlined by the Wisconsin Trail Building committee. The youngsters headed by Mr. Clark blazed a trail five feet wide for five miles over second-growth timber from Starret lake to Alleguash lake.

The blazing of the five miles was the opening of a 10 year project in time it is hoped a distance of 25 miles or more will be covered so that people visiting the northern parts of the state can see the forests and lakes in the natural form, according to Mr. Clark.

The group of 20 scouts was divided into three patrols. Each of the boys received $1 a day for upkeep while in camp, according to Mr. Clark.

The youngsters worked five hours each starting at 6:30 in the morning and working until 1:00 in the afternoon. Afternoons and evenings were devoted to sports and trips.

SCOUTS OF TROOP 2 MEET IN ALICIA PARK

Valley council boy scout Troop 2 of First Methodist church held a meeting at Alicia park at 7:30 Tuesday evening. A dinner will be prepared by scouts at the park. A short business meeting will be followed by games and stunts.

Briefs About Badgers

Milwaukee (AP)—A plunge from a second floor window Monday resulted in nothing more serious than a few loosened teeth for Harold Eiche, 2, of Milwaukee.

Port Washington (AP)—Facing trial on arson charges, Nick J. Burton, a farmer living near here, was at liberty under $1,000 bail today. He was arrested as the result of a fire in a building on a farm rented by him. The fire started after Burton was ordered to move by John Younger of Crafton, the owner.

Portage (AP)—The old wild-west days of cattle rustlers and two-gun men were reenacted in Portage today as Hamilton Cornercross, 20, was held in jail. He was captured after a chase by Sheriff Al Gilbert of Col-dowa a country road.

Milwaukee (AP)—Two persons were killed in Milwaukee motor accidents Sunday. Michael Ziman, 20, Beloit, died when a speeding trolley car struck his automobile. George Schueler, 83, of Prairie du Sac, died of injuries received when he was hit by a car.

Beloit (AP)—Raymond Mahon's idea of celebrating Labor day is to jump from a parachute. While visiting Beloit friends, young Mahon, of Milwaukee, watched aerial exhibitions at the city port. He was so interested he begged for a chance to make a leap. Jumping from several hundred feet, he landed safely in a cornfield.

Milwaukee (AP)—While prices in other Wisconsin towns remain at the old levels, the cost of a shave and a haircut has been raised in Milwaukee downtown shops. It now is 65 cents for a cut and 35 cents for a shave.

Milwaukee (AP)—Labor fared better than was anticipated, at the recent session of the state legislature, Senator Thomas M. Duncan, Milwaukee, told 10,000 workers gathered for a Labor day festival here yesterday. The principal accomplishments of labor in the session he listed as the impeachment proceedings against Judge E. B. Belden, Racine, the enactment of the "yellow dog" contract bill and of an old age pension law "that will work."

Racine (AP)—Mrs. Joseph L. Lowicz, 32, Chicago, died in a hospital here Monday from injuries suffered when her automobile crashed into an interurban car.

URGE STATE BOXING BOARD TO PROMOTE BOXING IN STATE

Propose to Permit Colleges to Put on Matches Without Sanctions

Madison (AP)—Six recommendations regarding the conduct of boxing in Wisconsin have been made to the senate by the committee named to investigate the athletic commission, according to the report. Senator H. Markham, Horicon, was chairman.

The recommendations are:

1. That members of the commission take an active part in shaping its policies, rather than being only a rubber stamp to the recommendations made by the secretary.
2. Boxing should not only be controlled, but also promoted in Wisconsin.
3. Certain evils of poor physical condition now prevail in boxing bouts, and that the commission should take steps to guarantee physical perfection of contestants.
4. A bill, which now is before the legislature, was submitted. This permits universities, colleges, normal schools, and high schools to promote bouts without jurisdiction of the commission, but on the basis of other collegiate sports are conducted.
5. Legislation should be enacted to take schools from jurisdiction of the commission.
6. That the committee be continued during the legislative interim, with its main purpose to be investigation of the activities of the athletic commission in regard to certain bouts held this year.

The recommendations are the result of hearings held in Milwaukee and Green Bay, according to the report. These hearings, the committee says, brought out that the secretary of the boxing commission "was acting in good faith in the execution of his duties, but he at times assumed too much authority." Boxing at Concordia college was retarded because of athletic commission interference, the report points out.

SNOWDEN MIRACLE CHARACTER OF LATE BRITISH POLITICS

Self-educated, a Partial Cripple, He Has Scored Triumphs for Years

BY MILTON BRONNER
London—Philip Snowden, socialist Chancellor of the Exchequer of Great Britain, passed himself today in the totally unexpected role not only of hero of his own party, but one enthusiastically backed by the opposition parties, lauded with unanimity by the entire British press and the entire British nation.

He is the miracle man of latterday British politics. If six years or even six weeks ago, anybody had been rash enough to predict such a thing, he would have been marked as crazy. And it is all because, for the first time in six years, a statesman is battling for the hard-pressed British taxpayer and telling Britain's late Allies that Britain is not going to be the goat of their financial plans.

A CONTRAST IN MEN
It is the turn in the long lane. For five years, in every conference designed to liquidate the debt and molly old hatreds, Britain was represented by Sir Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary in the Tory cabinet. He came to be considered a wooden lath painted to look like steel. He was deemed the tail to Britain's kite. What the French wished, he largely O. K.'d.

So when The Hagen conference of the powers was called to take up the Young plan for the final settlement of reparations Germany was to pay, nobody looked for much trouble from England.

But they forgot Snowden. He is no wooden lath. He is all steel. Where Chamberlain, in highly polished, diplomatic language, was accustomed to call a spade an agricultural instrument with which one loosened and removed earth, Snowden in plain language called a spade a spade. It shocked the French, who called him a cad and the more they insulted him in their press, the more the British cheered their champion.

WHAT YOUNG PLAN PROVIDED
The high spots of the Young plan were three:
It altered the percentages of reparations; the various nations were to get from the figures adopted at Spa; and to Britain's loss.

It divided the payments Germany was to make into two classes, unconditional and conditional. The former were to be paid by Germany in any event. The latter were to be postponed or suspended in case Germany had financial difficulties. The payments to France, Italy and Belgium were to come largely out of the unconditional reparations. Those of Britain were to come largely out of the conditional payments. The other countries were, therefore, sure of their swag. Britain was not. And furthermore, a part of the reparations was to be made in goods—largely to Britain.

Snowden plainly told the conference he was not having any. He would not agree to any alteration of the Spa percentages, which meant a net loss to Britain of over $12,000,000 a year. He wanted a larger percentage of the unconditional payments to be allotted to Britain. And he was unwilling that Germany—a keen industrial competitor of Britain—should dump reparation goods into Britain.

CHAMPION OF THE TAXPAYER
The British taxpayers rubbed their eyes in amazement when they read this. Here was somebody at last battling for them. And of all things the hero who was doing it was the man they had been taught to fear the most. When the Labor Socialist party was going on from strength to strength, the Tory and Liberal leaders respected the emotional and romantic Ramsay MacDonald, but they dreaded Snowden as a man who worked according to logic and carried his logic to the point of ruthlessness.

Snowden's career is one of the romances of world politics. He was born 66 years ago, his father being a poor weaver, of Cowlind. The son had an aptitude for books. Largely by his own efforts, he educated himself and entered the British government service through its civil service ranks.

But when he was 29, one day while riding a bicycle, he had an accident which broke his back. He hovered between life and death. His former work now was impossible and for a year he lay in bed passing the long hours by reading. He had been a Liberal politician. His studies made a Socialist of him.

HIS POLITICAL RISE
When Snowden was able to leave his room, he was doomed to go through the world with the aid of a pair of sticks. He made his living by lecturing and writing. He became chairman of the Independent Labor party for a long period of years. He entered the House of Commons in 1906, but was defeated. He was elected in 1906 and held the seat until 1918, when he was defeated, because, like his chief, the present Premier MacDonald, he was a convinced pacifist and said so all during the war. In 1922 he went back to Parliament.

FIRST GREAT TRIUMPH WAS HIS BUDGET SPEECH IN THE COMMONS

STEEL WILL IN A FRAIL BODY

His greatest triumph hitherto came on April 12, 1924, when, as Chancellor of the Exchequer in England's first Socialist government, he introduced his great budget in which he took the tax off the people's breakfast table.

WINS EPIC TRIBUTE
It was a dramatic scene. He stood there in the House of Commons, his sticks by his side. His face attracted attention with its blue eyes hollowed by suffering, his strong, well-formed nose, his thin, determined lips. He spoke for hours. The increasing pallor of his always white face showed the physical pain he was suffering. But from every side of the House, regardless of party, came the cry: "Go on! Go on!" It was a very rarely paid tribute.

Snowden is a master of lucid exposition. He reveals in figures. He is a formidable debater, with an acid style that burns. And he flashes out memorable phrases as he goes. He is credited with having originated the phrase—"the idle rich." A popular and more recent saying of his is: "A few years ago it took four sheep to clothe one woman. Now one silk-worm can do it."

Gave New Lease On Life, She Says
"After eleven years of suffering and discouragement, the Sargon treatment completely restored my health and gave me a new lease on life when all other medicines I tried had failed."

"Pains from neuritis in my arms and shoulders nearly drove me distracted at times. I hardly ever got a good night's sleep. I was very bilious, my skin was sallow and I was told that my back was causing my liver being inactive. I was almost always constipated and had frequent sick headaches and dizzy spells."

"Never in my life have I seen such wonderful improvement as I have gotten from Sargon. The pains have completely left my arms and shoulders, my color is clear and healthy and I'm strong and well in every way. Sargon Soft Mass Pills completely ended my constipation and I never have those sick headaches and dizzy spells any more. Nearly everybody in my neighborhood is taking Sargon since they saw what it did for me." — Mrs. E. Spitzbarth, 1245 10th St., Milwaukee.

Receive No Word of John T. Wood, Wausau Pilot, and His Mechanic

Cleveland, O.—(AP)—John T. Wood, veteran pilot and president of the Northern Airways company, and Russell Ward, his mechanic, were missing more than 24 hours today after leaving Los Angeles in a second attempt to complete the non-stop derby to Cleveland for $1,500 in prize offered at the national air races.

Wood off at 4 o'clock (e. s. t.) yesterday morning. Inquiry at all major airports on the route failed to discover any trace of him. He was flying a cabin model Lockheed Vega monoplane capable of a speed for 190 miles an hour. The plane's identification number was 7394.

Cleveland airport officials expressed concern for the safety of the pair, and used radio broadcasting stations in pressing a search for them in addition to the usual intercommunication with airports.

No word had been received from them today, however, and officials of the races admittedly were at a loss to decide where a search for the pair should begin. Wood's home was in Wausau, Wis.

Wood was turned back in the first attempt to make the flight Saturday. A clogged gasoline line forced him down at Willard, N. M., but he later flew back to Los Angeles for the renewed attempt yesterday morning. But three pilots entered in the derby got through.

Henry Brown, Cleveland air mail pilot, won a prize of $5,000, landing Sunday in 13 hours and 15 minutes. Lee Schoenhaf, Los Angeles, completed the flight a week ago in 13 hours, 51 minutes and 10 seconds and was awarded second prize of $2,500. Captain Roscoe Turner, of Hollywood, flew the route but was disqualified for violating rules establishing landing deadlines for the derbies. Art Goebel, Honolulu, dove prize flier, refused to make the attempt yesterday morning because of unfavorable flying conditions.

APPLETON MAN GETS LETTER BROUGHT TO U. S. BY GRAF ZEPPELIN

At least one Appleton man will always remember the flight of the Graf Zepplin from Friedrichshafen, Germany, around the world, because he has a letter carried by the giant airship, probably the only letter received here.

Moritz Heinemann, 403 N. Bennett st., is the recipient of the letter which was mailed by his brother Constantine who resides at Friedrichshafen. The letter was received in Appleton Friday.

RUSSIAN PILOT STARTS ON HOP TO NEW YORK
Moscow —(AP)—The all-Russian airplane "Land of the Soviets," piloted by the Russian ace Shestakov on his second effort to fly from Moscow to New York, landed today at Khabarovsk, eastern Siberia, completing the first stage of its flight across an ocean and three continents.

Men, Not Women, Hesitate To Tell How Old They Are

Another tradition received a serious setback this week when Miss Molly Pfeffer, deputy county clerk, and Miss Norma Krueger, secretary to the county clerk, pointed out that it is the men and not the women who are reluctant to state their ages when applying for a marriage license.

Practically all marriage licenses issued in this county are given out by Misses Pfeffer and Krueger to whom that duty has been delegated by John D. Hunsicker, county clerk.

"That old belief that women are shy in stating their ages is pure nonsense," say the girls. "If anyone doesn't believe us they have only to stay around here a day or two and listen in on the conversation when a couple makes application for a license."

The girls tell of one case when a couple came for a license and the prospective groom, who was two years younger than his intended, was reluctant to let her know how young he was. So he merely told a little white lie for the time being and added two years to his age in the presence of his coming bride. A few minutes later he returned to the office and whispered his correct age to the clerk and asked to have the change recorded.

Women are always ready to tell how old they are but the men hesitate and stutter and stammer before they finally divulge the information, the clerks say.

"And the older the men are the more reluctant they are about telling their ages," the girls claim. "While this same reticence is found in women also as they become older, it is more noticeable in men."

An examination of the marriage license record for August shows that the average age for men receiving licenses was 28.3 while the average age for women was 24.2. A total of 51 licenses were issued.

This average age is much above normal, the clerks believe, because the applicants for licenses during August all were much older than usual.

The oldest man to receive a license was 75 and he was to be married to a woman 40 years old. The youngest

NEW INVESTMENT COMPANY OFFERS NOVELTY TO FIELD

Exchanges Own Stock for Shares of 21 Leading Corporations

Copyright, 1929, by Cons. Press
New York—When the investment company known as the Blue Ridge Corporation was organized recently it introduced a novelty into the investment trust field. It offered to exchange its stock at a fixed price for the shares of twenty-one leading corporations also at a fixed price which was approximately the market at the time the offer was made. Various deductions were drawn by the speculative and trading community as to the effect upon the current price of the twenty-one stocks of this offer, but with none of these inferences need we concern ourselves here.

The interesting point from an investment standpoint is the choice of stocks made and the amount of diversification. In the first place the list was confined entirely to leaders in their respective lines, for instance U. S. Steel and Bethlehem Steel among the steel companies and General Electric and Westinghouse Electric among the electrical manufacturing corporations. Market prices for the stocks of this grade were at that time at the highest levels or nearly so ever reached but the managers of this new investment trust chose to buy them rather than shares in smaller companies which had not enjoyed a corresponding advance.

This is sound judgment. Whether or not these stocks were selling too high is not material. If any stock is to be bought it ought to be one representative of a commanding position. The diversification shows out of the twenty-one stocks, seven utilities, four railroads, two each of chemical, steel, electric and oil companies and one photographic and one farm implement organization. It is a little remarkable that no motor stock was included but otherwise the list is a fair cross-section of American industry.

Giving to the electric light and power companies a 33 1/3 per cent representation and putting the railroad issues next is a tribute to the sustained earning power of these two groups. As is well known profits in general industry vary much more than those in the utility and carrier classes.

Talks To Parents

CARESSES
Uncle Ben is said to be a great lover of children.

Wherever he goes there are one or two in his lap and three or four clambering on the arms of his chair. He walks down the street with them hand in hand or with his arms about his shoulders. He kisses them hello and goodbye, hugs them and pinches their plump cheeks.

The atmosphere is ever so warm and loving, but is not, one is inclined to feel, quite wholesome. There is an over-consciousness of the personal element in all Uncle Ben's relationships with children. Of course the children love Uncle Ben, for he is easily interesting and jolly, but it is love expressed too much in terms of caresses.

Such a relationship, charming as it may appear to the casual bystander, is far from ideal. So much demonstration of affection is not good. The child who is caressed much by people other than those very close to him loses a certain delicacy.

Physical intimacy which should be reserved for moments of special love and tenderness becomes something less given and without the fine significance. The child's spirit loses a blue which, if we wish him to learn to live deeply and beautifully, we would help him preserve.

The Uncle Bens of this world mean well enough, but they need to be educated. If indeed they possess great love for children they must learn to press it less in terms of caresses, or in terms of talks and work and play.

Don't let well meaning adults case your child before they have won their way to such intimacy by the proof of an affection which can keep its distance while making friends.

Finds Use Of Two Languages Is Barrier To South America

That progress in South Africa is greatly hindered by the fact that it is a bi-lingual country, is the opinion expressed by Dr. Rufus M. Bagge of Lawrence College, in a letter to Judson G. Rosebush from Cape Town. Dr. Bagge has gone to South Africa on a geological survey. He recently was appointed with five other geologists to represent the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers at the International Geological congress. His letter written July 13, follows:

"You would be surprised to look behind the scenes at Cape Town and in South Africa, both from the economic and political standpoint. This is a bi-lingual country and of that I do not approve. Every public document, publication, timetable, etc. must be in English and in Afrikaans. This involves an enormous expense and few can read the Afrikaans language, which differs from the Dutch and is not a standard language.

"It is also unpronounceable. Over the sidewalks hang the words 'Hou Links' and above it, 'Keep to the Left.' The railroad timetable is a huge volume, menus are bi-lingual, teachers not understanding Afrikaans must give up their positions under the new law and I am told that this applies to all policemen as well.

"You can imagine what a confusion and expense such conditions involve. The union of South Africa, however, has two capitals. The houses of parliament at Cape Town are the scenes of the legislative body meetings, while the executive body meets at Pretoria. Can you imagine any economy under such a regime?

"Cape Town is a most cosmopolitan city. Many fezzed-turbaned Mohammedans are seen on the streets. Zulus, Kafirs, Jews, Coolies from India, and in fact nearly every race is well represented except the Americans, there are a few, of course in business from America, and the General Motors has had an agent hereabouts for four years.

MOUNTAIN NEAR CITY
"There is an immense mountain back of Cape Town, 3,582 feet high, and a cable railway is under construction to its summit. It was to be completed before this and one of our excursions was to the summit, but it will not be finished until late in August.

"The base of the range, extending clear down to the Cape of Good Hope (Point) consists of slates standing on edge and cut by a huge mass of gray granite 28 miles long and from four to eight miles wide. It is of unknown age. Over these eroded masses lie 3,000 feet of well stratified shales and sandstones with some ripple marks. I noted rim or mud cracks and some traces of fossils, but none of these can with certainty be made out. The summit carries stray glacial boulder deposits.

"Yesterday I rode to Cape Point lighthouse to the end of the peninsula along one of the finest motor drives in all the world. Cape Town residents claim there is no equal, but I doubt it. Standing 800 feet above the old Cape lighthouse you see two oceans; the Atlantic whose waters are 10 to 14 degrees colder than the Indian on your left, sweeping with its trades into False Bay and around this most precipitous headland. It should be called the Cape of Storms, though Good Hope 21 1/2 feet in girth, 700 feet with-out a limb, 137 feet tall, and estimated to be 1,500 years old. It contains enough wood for 440 railroad ties. There are other larger trees but they are deeper in the forests and inaccessible. A troop of wild elephants, 11 now, live in this deeper tangle.

"The flowers of this peninsula are beyond description. I cannot understand how so many are blossoming when it is so cold and the surrounding mountains are white with snow. The congo caves are marvelous. Lighted by electric lights you can walk some four hours without reaching the end. We were in a 30-minute walk. Dates carved there in 1811 show that it has long been known.

"We are leaving for the north Wednesday afternoon to take in the diamond mines at Kimberly. Tuesday evening the mayor and city council entertained us at a reception in the city hall. I met the director of the Geological Survey of Great Britain, who went through the diamond cutting plant with me."

RETAILERS COMPLETE FALL OPENING PLANS

Final plans for the fall style show and opening of Appleton stores will be made at a meeting of the retail division of the chamber of commerce Tuesday morning at chamber offices. The meeting will begin at 9:30.

A report on activity of the street lighting committee and the petition it is circulating requesting new lights for College-ave, also will be made. About 75 per cent of the merchants on College-ave have signed the petition, the remainder being men who live outside the city and who it is not easy to get in touch with.

Tiffin, Georgia—67—a scientific expedition headed by Professor Nikolaus is in preparation to make a geographic survey of Mount Elbrus in the central part of the Caucasus mountain ridge. A meteorological station will be established on top of the mount at an elevation of 17,513 feet.

CRACKING A HARD NUT
An agreement in principle on a reparations compromise among the nations concerned would have solved the complicated problem presented by Britain's unexpected attitude at The Hague conference if it had met Germany's approval. The agreement gave the British substantially 70 per cent of their demand in money and other concessions on deliveries in kind.
The British viewpoint, as expressed rather violently by Snowden, seemed to some observers both selfish and dangerous. It threatened to upset the whole reparations plan and to end the good feeling which had been so carefully developed and fostered among the six leading European powers. Stresemann, professing willingness to cooperate, declared at the same time that Germany must get something in exchange for anything it gave up. These two views make a hard nut to crack, but that it will be cracked eventually is firmly believed.
Who is right and who is wrong is a difficult matter to decide. Yet the feeling grows that the delegates will reach a workable compromise. What international peace needs for its own effectiveness is to have leaders and peoples of different nations willing to sacrifice occasional claims of their own for the good of the whole group.

WHEN DISCIPLINE IS NEEDED
When Judge German of the Philadelphia juvenile court sentenced a fifteen-year-old boy to the reform school, and the boy muttered as he led out, "I'll get you," the judge ordered him back. "That remark is further evidence of a complex that requires mental rehabilitation," protested the attorney for the Juvenile Aid society. "No!" replied the judge. "It is just another sample of his bad disposition. He needs discipline."
He was tired, the judge said, of having nasty dispositions explained as "psychiatric problems." It wasn't a "psychiatric case" at all, he maintained, though the social workers had coddled the boy for eight months on that basis. This particular lad was suffering from "exaggerated ego." He was keen and intelligent. He felt that he could do whatever he wanted to, and did, and had been getting away with it too long. So it was "good, old-fashioned discipline for him."
Anyone might go wrong on a particular case. But undoubtedly there is a good deal in the judge's view. The one thing most lacking in the bringing up of youth nowadays is discipline. Not cruelty, not severity, but strength and occasional sternness is needed with any normal youngster. Life itself usually provides its discipline in time, all the harder to bear in the case of a boy or girl who has not been trained to natural hardship and justice when young. It is not only dangerous to society, but unfair to the youngsters themselves, to let them grow up thinking they can have everything their own way.

WORK FOR THE LEAGUE
The tenth session of the League of Nations Assembly, meeting this September, is to be the busiest in its history. Disarmament, arbitration and security treaties, codification of international law, social problems, economic issues, and many other matters are scheduled for attention.
One of the troublesome questions to be raised will be the treatment of racial minorities in different countries who are far from satisfied with their present status. The groups have united for the purpose of making their demands more impressive. Their leaders claim to speak for 30,000,000 minority residents of 14 countries. The largest racial group is German, with delegates from Czechoslovakia, Italy, Estonia, Latvia, and Yugoslavia, Poland and Hungary. The Jewish group, also, is large.

Just what can be done for these people is hard to say. The opportunity to speak up before the world, however, and to air their grievances in the League of Nations Assembly is a thing. Such action has not always been possible in the past for racial minorities in this world.

ASSIMILATING THE INDIAN
Secretary of the Interior Wilbur says "too much is being made of the Indian as a showman, cast in aboriginal roles." Chief Standing Bear of the Dakota Sioux replies: "The impression the public is getting of the Indian is an impression the public has created. Every news stand has books and magazines in which the Indian is shown to be a war-whooping savage. Many motion pictures are built about the Indian as he was supposed to be in the olden days, and the public extends its support to such productions."
"If the public and the government officials over the Indians will permit the depicting of Indians as savages, a thing which the Indians cannot stop, why not let the Indians make a true display of the tribal rites in true Indian fashion?"
The Indians in their ceremonials, he argues, show themselves as a race of artistic and clean-living people. He urges the educational importance of such presentations, to keep alive the fine things in Indian life, and to educate a misled white race to their real value.
The chief is right. These things should be welcomed. Whatever heritage the Indian has which is unique, and contributes variety and interest to human life, should be preserved. The Indian's natural virtues should be recognized. Secretary Wilbur is right, too. It is the manifest destiny of the Indian to be absorbed into American life. He must, therefore, learn our knowledge and ways, and fit himself as well as may be into the white man's world.

"DEFENSIVE" WAR
The Chinese government announces that its policy is purely defensive. It has concentrated troops on its Manchurian frontiers to prevent the Russians from crossing. Any fighting it may do will be merely in the form of repelling invasions or raids. The Russian government makes a similar announcement. It proposes merely to defend Russian territory and property against the Chinese. That is all its troops, artillery and armored trains are meant for.
Fine! Just let the Chinese stand prepared on their side of the fence, and the Russians on theirs, and nobody will get hurt. Eventually the soldiers will get tired of standing, and the governments will get tired of paying their bills, and everybody will pack up and go home and forget it.
It would be easier though to accept this cheerful view if we did not remember that every nation engaged in the World war was fighting defensively. There is no broader term in history than "defensive warfare." A general or a statesman can always make a pretty good case for defending his country by the method of getting the jump on the aggressive and faithless enemy. And when soldiers are merely patrolling their frontier beats, it is surprising how bullets will spatter over the line. Often, too, nobody seems to know just where the line is. Patriotic generals, with armies craving action, like to set the border down in a new place every morning.
So the first thing anyone knows, there is a mix-up. Then national honor must be avenged, and the whole nation gets very patriotic and excited and belligerent; though to people at home it may all be of no more real importance than a moving picture play.

LIFE INSURANCE
Life insurance in force in the United States has now reached $100,000,000,000. This is four times as much as it was 13 years ago, and twice as much as it was seven years ago.
It looks as if insurance is our greatest industry. It is one in which every one may take satisfaction. No other business in the world is more honestly conducted. Probably no other does so much good. It is our chief form of thrift. It safeguards family fortunes. It promotes security and peace of mind. It steadies society.
Insurance men say they expect another doubling of the total by 1940. It would double before that, if people fully realized the value of life insurance.
News from Chile indicates that that country will abolish capital punishment, thereby becoming the 25th nation in the world to do so.

Seen And Heard In New York

BY RICHARD MASSOCK
New York—Two Wisconsin college girls visiting New York this summer kept a record of what, to them, were the city's most unusual sights.
Having been here before, they already had gazed upon the Statue of Liberty, Coney Island, Aquarium and other standard wonders. Their observations, therefore, took in the more human aspects of life, which they duly listed under the title "Impressions." As they went about town, they made notes, in true academic fashion. And here is what they wrote:
"Click-clink of subway coin gates... French maids in veiled caps wheeling perambulators... Men wearing pajamas on the street... 'Beggars, blind men, cripples going through subway... Bunches of fellows and girls going down main thoroughfares hand in hand or with arms around each other's waist... 'Hansom cabs around the plaza, taking people through Central park... Girls smoking cigarettes in Columbia class-rooms while waiting for the instructor and lighting up again immediately after dismissal...
"Underground street-car trolleys... People hanging out of apartment windows, drying hair, or merely staring...
"Munglows on roofs... Fire engines screaming at all hours of the day and night...
"Men wearing Deauville sandals... Foreign and armored cars...
SHADES OF SCARLET DAYS
Parallel with East river, a block away, runs Water street, which 50 years ago was perhaps the most notorious lane in Manhattan for scenes of debauchery, flagrant vice and violence.
When Jerry McAuley, a reformed convict, founded his famous mission there in 1872, Water street was a ruby thoroughfare for sailors' lodging houses, saloons, dance halls and cellar flophouses; fleecing, shanghaiing; street fights, dog fights.
Now it's as drowsy as the mission. Like many another phase of metropolitan life, vice has moved uptown. Harlem has the gangsters' hangouts, covert brothels and gambling dives of the present.
The odor of stale beer has long since blown away from Water street and in its place has come the aroma of stables, fish markets and drug warehouses.
SPANISH COLONY
At the lower end of what appears to be a Valencia-land of Spanish restaurants and rooming houses. In the Valencia barber shop, Valencia billiard parlor, Valencia music shop and Valencia cafe, swartly men talk football. All around, signs announce a forthcoming game between the Galicia Sporting club and the Brooklyn Celtics at Cramer park, with music by the Florida Regional Esmas and the Virginia Ramblers.
On the sidewalk four bums are sleeping off a drunk. Two reeling sailors beg cigarettes "butts" from passersby.
Grimy gamins smoke cigarettes in doorways. Their speech is remarkably pure, for during the winter they attend the neighborhood school with the cleaner kids one sees in nearby playgrounds.
Some of the old tenements remain, advertising electric lights and water sinks. In other hallways, gas lights flicker. Two new brick tenements flaunt awnings in uptown style. One is the "Roosevelt Riverside Apartments"; the other, the "Wilson," for Water street is patriotic.

TREATY OF PARIS
The Treaty of Paris was signed Sept. 3, 1783, between Great Britain and the United States, and marked the end of the American Revolution and the recognized independence of the colonies.
The four questions that caused great difficulty before the negotiators reached an agreement were: the boundaries of the United States; fishing rights on the coast of Newfoundland; payment of private debts due from Americans to British creditors, and compensation of the Loyalists.
Roughly, the boundary agreed upon was the Mississippi river on the west, the 31st parallel of latitude on the south, the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence river on the north and the Atlantic ocean on the east.
The Americans were allowed to continue to enjoy the same rights of fishing at Newfoundland as when they were English colonists.
On the third point it was agreed creditors on either side should meet with no impediments in collecting lawful debts contracted before the war.
Regarding the Loyalists, the American negotiators consented Congress should be asked to recommend to the state legislatures to provide for restitution of confiscated estates, and to cease all prosecution commenced against persons known as Loyalists.

LOOKING BACKWARD
TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Tuesday, Sept. 6, 1904
The Labor day celebration was attended by a large crowd, and was a success in every respect. Frank Wurl was a Milwaukee visitor that week.
Robert Green had returned from a business trip to Arizona.
August H. Meyer left the day before for a few days' business trip to Mondovi and Madison.
Mr. and Mrs. James Green and son had returned from Wheaton, Ill., where they spent several weeks.
Miss Clara Krantzsch left for Milwaukee the preceding Sunday where she was to resume her professional duties as instructor in the Milwaukee normal school for the deaf.
The Misses Nina and Kate Gochmayer left Appleton to resume their teaching duties at Oshkosh and Weyauwega respectively.
John Walsh and Sam Hammel left that morning for Milwaukee to attend the state fair.
Miss Katherine Hogan left the previous Sunday for Glidden to take charge of the kindergarten.
Attorney J. E. Lehr was in Madison attending the opening of the state supreme court.

TEN YEARS AGO
Tuesday, Sept. 2, 1919
Mexico would maintain her sovereignty "unharmful" and "absolutely could not accept any limitations on the liberty of Mexican citizens," president Carranza declared the previous night in his message before the opening session of congress.
Harold Finger had returned from a week's visit with friends in Green Bay.
More than 200 members of Loyd order of Moose and their families gathered at Alicia park the previous Sunday for the annual outing of the lodge.
Applications for marriage licenses were made that morning at the office of county clerk by the following couples: Fred Reichel and Emma Elchhorst, Appleton; Albert C. Janke, Ellington, and Sarah Elchhorst, Appleton; Karl Muench, Appleton, and Cecelia Welch, New York.
Perry Brown returned from Kewanee where he had been visiting for several days, and had resumed his work at the Sherman house barber shop.
The Misses Rose and Clara Ryan, Elizabeth Glaschen, and Theresa Keller hiked to the Malachi Ryan farm in the town of Buchanan the previous day.
If all the domestic coal used in England were treated by an up-to-date low temperature distillation process, 500,000,000 gallons of petrol could be produced annually.

DOCTORS SHOULD NOT GRIN AT A FUNERAL

A reader sends a page from a popular weekly magazine containing an article entitled "Funerals That Kill off Mourners." The article is printed under the caption "Science and Invention," the I fail to detect any science in the two columns of guff, however much invention there may be in it.
The article is a rehash of the hackneyed newspaper idea that the late Ambassador Herriek "caught cold" by marching bareheaded at Marshal Foch's funeral, and a collection of half-baked comments by laymen, undertakers and the like on the grave menace to health and life in our quaint custom of baring the head at a funeral, irrespective of the weather. The reader assures me that this article ought to hold me for a while—but it probably won't, he says, for I'll be just as glib as ever, and as for that he will stay with me to the last sneeze. He says in such matters he will bank on my judgment rather than that of the esteemed weekly magazine.
In the funny article a Springfield newspaper is quoted as saying that "Undertakers appreciate that many colds are contracted in cemeteries when men stand with bared heads in a chilly wind. They are unused to such exposure and suffer from it, whereas the undertakers, being accustomed to it, suffer no ill effects."
I certainly prefer an undertaker who can crack a good joke at the right time, but I hold he should save his best stuff for the wake and not disturb the decorum of the mourners at the interment. Let obscure authorities on human pathology cut up as much as they please; undertakers should bear their burden with due solemnity, whether it is a profitable planting or not.
Some time when the Springfield doctors are attending strictly to business and the local undertakers are enjoying a brief lull, I'd like to see them stand committed to them to meet me in a bareheaded contest in some convenient graveyard when the weather is right for a bad cold. I'll leave it to the boys in the stove-pipe hats to choose whether just as dirty as they like, I'll go as lidded as I was born, and the casketers may cuddle under whatever head covering or protection they prefer.
Not until somebody shows that undertakers are less susceptible to any particular illness or ailment than ministers, doctors or florists are, can we listen to these droll assertions of the funeral directors and Surgeon Gen. Hugh Cumming with a straight face.

I am bothered by the accumulation of wax in my ear, so deeply that I cannot remove it with wash cloth. This affects my hearing. How can I remove it or prevent it from collecting? (L. B.)
Answer.—Better have your doctor syringe it out. Watch how he does it, or ask him to show you how, so that you may repeat the syringing from time to time. It is unsafe to use anything in the ear in the attempt to remove the wax.
Safety First.
You've added another bogey to the list already cherished by timid folk, by your recent article on the perils of the bath. Why not now give us an article on the dangers of picture hanging. FLASHES FROM HOLLYWOOD

BY ROBBIN COONS
Hollywood—Believe it or not, talkies are easier to direct than silent movies, and by a thousand per cent! Or so says Louis F. Gasnier, director of many voiceless films who recently has completed his first talkie. It would appear difficult to accept such a statement, in view of the thousand-and-one intricacies involved in the filming and recording of talkies, were it not for Gasnier's stage training and experience—and after all the mechanical difficulties are the technician's worry, not the director's.
Gasnier was on the Parisian stage 10 years before the movies intrigued his interest, and now after nearly a score of years spent in the silent medium either as production manager of director, he has "come home," in a way, to his first love.
SPOOKS
Gasnier's first talkie, "Darkened Rooms," is Evelyn Brent's first starring picture, the cast including Nell Hamilton and Doris Hill in support. The picture is itself a "first" in that it initiates the "ghost story" among the other popular types of all talking dramas, and if it succeeds no doubt a flock of similar tales will be recorded hastily, forming a school to rival the mystery, courtroom and crook melodramas which have flourished since the success of "The Canary Murder Case," "The Trial of Mary Dugan" and "Alibi."
IT HAPPENED
A story that sounds like a press agent's dream is told by George Sessel, who avows and declares it isn't. It began in a little New Jersey town 15 years ago. Jesse, aged 10, and Gus Edwards, his vaudeville "boss," were walking along the street with little George kicking about the "girl I have to sing to" in his act. It seemed she didn't pay much attention when he sang, and George wasn't inspired to do his best. Gus replied in sarcastic voice:
"So you want to pick your leading ladies already, huh? Well, let's see you do it!"
"How about that little girl over there?" said George promptly.
STILL PICKS 'EM
He pointed to a pretty child with big dark eyes who was playing with a doll on a porch. Gus was impressed. Ere long the pretty child became George's leading lady, and as "Cuddles" she played opposite George in various Edwards vaudeville acts for several years. When Jesse eventually left Gus to try his stage luck alone, the girl stayed on. Then she came to Hollywood and entered the movies.
Recently when Jesse was considering suggestions as to a leading lady for a new starring talkie, none seemed to suit. In despair they told him to pick his own. George sent for "Cuddles."
And it was Lila Lee, now grown up, who came.

MABLE PROVES THAT WOMEN IN POLITICS TALK FAR TOO MUCH

Policy Is All Right to Public but Not to Politicians

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington — Mabel Walker Willebrandt's little row with James Francis Burke of the Republican National Committee, involving the question whether the best minds of the party caused her to whoop up the Methodists against Al Smith last year or whether it was just her own idea, inspires your correspondent to resurrect one of his favorite dispatches and give it some new trimmings.

This is the story of the touching way in which the women of the country have been so signally rewarded for their very large part last year in keeping the Republican party in office. It's a story that always interests the female audience, if any.

THEY EXPECTED MUCH

While Mrs. Willebrandt was virtually running prohibition enforcement, the women of the country could point to one woman who was doing an outstanding job in the public service and suggest hopefully that, after the new administration was in, other women would be given similar opportunities by Mr. Hoover and his grateful party.

Unfortunately, it doesn't seem to be working out that way. As usual, the men politicians have copped all the jobs newly available. Even Mrs. Willebrandt has quit, after her failure to receive any reward except a gold medal to pipe down, and although there is a woman member of the Civil Service Commission your correspondent doubts whether there is now one in the entire government service—outside Congress—whose name is familiar to one person in a hundred.

There are at least two reasons. One is that male politicians want to keep all the jobs for themselves and will do just that as long as they can get away with it. You can guess for yourself what the other one is. Perhaps it's an inherent fear that women are likely to upset apple-carts if placed in responsible posts.

Take Mabel Willebrandt. Although she insists that she was the goat insofar as those campaign incidents were concerned, and most persons here believe her despite denials, it is obvious that she just couldn't hold herself in after severing her connections with the government and with politics. She did fairly well for years, though frequently she talked publicly with too much frankness for male Republican office-holders, but lately she has been spilling a few large beans.

Now a man might have done the same thing, but the answer is that he seldom does. Consider the case of General Lincoln C. Andrews, who certainly had as much to tell and probably more. Andrews resigned the job of boss prohibition officer in disgust, but he hasn't even been interviewed in the two or more subsequent years and has steadfastly refused to write anything. It can be argued rather convincingly that her volubility is more in the public interest than his taciturnity—but not to the ordinary politician, who doesn't want the public to know too much.

MUSTN'T BE INDEPENDENT

The politician's attitude is well expressed by Frank Kent in the Baltimore Sun, describing the search for the Republican National Committee's female vice chairman. First and foremost, says he: "She must be entirely docile, not addicted to independent political thought or action, dignified, but he hasn't even been interviewed in the two or more subsequent years and has steadfastly refused to write anything. It can be argued rather convincingly that her volubility is more in the public interest than his taciturnity—but not to the ordinary politician, who doesn't want the public to know too much."

START WORK ON ADDITION TO RIVERSIDE PAPER MILL

Construction work on the new warehouse for the Riverside Fibre and Paper company, north of the wood room of the sulphite plant, was started last week by the C. R. Meyer Construction company of Oshkosh.

The new building which is expected to be completed by the middle of October will be at large as the wood room, 154 feet long and 46 feet wide. It will be used for storing paper and raw materials. It will cost approximately $15,000.

Excavation has been completed and work has been started on the concrete foundation. It will be constructed of face brick and reinforced concrete.

C. G. WARNS ABOUT CANVASSERS IN CITY

Alleged Representative of Soap Company Reported Working Here

Appleton housewives have been asked by the chamber of commerce to beware of agents who call at their homes and try to sell various articles. A recent incident where an Appleton housewife bought soap from a salesman purporting to represent a nationally known company and then failed to receive any is cause for the warning.

An agent called on the Appleton women and said he represented a nationally known company. He took an order for soap, received a check in full payment and although the check has been returned the soap has never been received. Investigation by the chamber of commerce shows the man to have had a former connection with the company but never as a salesman.

House to house canvassers who are not local people or cannot show cards issued by the chamber of commerce approving their work are asked to inform the chamber of the activity.

CABBAGE INSPECTOR TO HAVE HEADQUARTERS HERE

An inspector from the state department of markets will establish headquarters in Appleton during the cabbage harvesting and shipping season according to word received Saturday morning by Gus Sell, county agent, from Madison. The inspector will arrive here next Wednesday and take up the work of grading and inspecting cabbage shipped from Appleton. He also will make trips to nearby shipping points where he will make inspections and grade the crop. Further information about the inspector may be received from Gus Sell.

Smart Frills and Flounces

BY ANNEBELLE WORTHINGTON

You'd never suspect this attractive dotted silk crepe in fashionable orchid and purple tones was a one-piece affair. The ruffled flounces are merely stitched to lower part of dress along the perforated lines. To contribute further smartness a dainty gathered frill is placed diagonally across left side of bodice, and frills inserted in the darts of long sleeves. The collarless neckline boasts of becoming Vionnet line.

Style No. 2791 comes in sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. In the medium size, 4 yards of 40-inch material with 7 1/4 yards of binding is sufficient to make it. With only two major parts to pattern, it is easily made in a single morning.

Printed cotton voile, flowered chiffon and georgette crepe also appropriate. Shantung, rajah silk and pastel silk crepe are attractive for resort.

Charet red crepe de chine, purple crepe marocain, black crepe, satin, slate blue crepe Elizabeth, and myrtle green canton crepe are advanced ideas that are also suitable for immediate wear.

Pattern price 15 cents. Be sure to fill in size of pattern. Address: Pattern Department. The large Fashion Magazine is 15 cents, but only 10 cents when ordered with a pattern.

LOCAL DELEGATES AT CHURCH MEET

The convention of the Eastern Wisconsin Federation of Wartburg Leagues took place Saturday and Sunday at Beaver Dam with representatives from First English Lutheran church in attendance. Those who attended from Appleton were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Foor, Rudolph Gauerke, Helen Block, and Verona Kilstein. The convention program opened with a business session Saturday afternoon and an entertainment by the members of the Beaver Dam league in the evening. At 10:30 Sunday morning there was a service with the Rev. H. C. Neuman, Cottage Grove, giving the sermon. In the afternoon the Beaver Dam league sponsored a field meet, and the convention banquet took place at 6 o'clock Sunday evening at the league hall. The Rev. A. G. Wenninger, superintendent of the orphan's home at Waverly, Ia., spoke on the subject, Organizations in Our Church, Are They a Blessing? At the banquet, the closing event of the convention, each league provided a feature number for entertainment. The Appleton representatives returned Sunday night.

RESORT CONCESSIONS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Ocean City, Md.—(AP)—Fire of unknown origin destroyed 15 concessions along the board walk of Maryland's only ocean resort early this morning, causing damage estimated at $250,000. Aided by fire fighting apparatus from seven nearby towns the fire was brought under control at 2 o'clock after it had been burning for more than an hour.

At 1:15 the flames reached the Atlantic hotel but did no damage to the structure. The section burned extended 400 yards north of the hotel to Playland, an amusement park where the fire was supposed to have started in a sandwich shop.

BOMB KILLS YOUTH DURING CELEBRATION

Milwaukee —(AP)—A two-day religious celebration of the holy feast of the Holy Cross ended in death for N. E. Bellante, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Bellante here yesterday. He died of injuries received when a bomb exploded in his hands. The bomb was one of those which were used at a pyrotechnic display held in conjunction with the celebration. The blast of the bomb when the lad lit the fuse tore off his right hand, burned his face and sent several pieces of wadding into his stomach.

Police are making an investigation into charges that the sponsors of the pyrotechnic display were negligent.

MAN PROTECTING STRAW HAT NEARLY KILLED

Chicago —(AP)—Three self-appointed nitwits decided that last night should be the end of the straw hat season. They strutted up and down navy pier knocking straw chapeaux from unwilling but unresisting heads. They came finally to one man who fought back. The three ruffians set upon him. They knocked him to the pavement and pounded him without mercy. His skull was fractured and county hospital intendants said he probably would die. The man, 28 years old, was not identified. The men who beat him escaped. Beside the unconscious form of their victim they left his hat, undamaged.

CALIFORNIA PAINTER IS DEAD IN MEXICO

Pasadena, Cal. —(AP)—Word was received here today of the death in Guadalajara, Mexico, Saturday of Elmer Wachtel, nationally known painter of California scenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Wachtel went to Mexico two weeks ago on a sketching tour. Wachtel had lived in California for forty years. Most of his better known canvasses depicted the brown hills and boulder strewn stream beds of California.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Margaret J. Reiter, daughter of John Reiter, 1017 W. Lawrence-st, and Arthur A. Steidl, Chicago, took place at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Joseph church. The Rev. Pacificus Rath performed the ceremony. Miss Bernice Kuehl, Appleton, attended the bride and Floyd Steidl, Menasha, acted as best man. Miss Helen Preiser sang several selections during the mass. A reception for about 75 guests took place at the home of the bride's father. After a trip to northern Wisconsin, Mr. and Mrs. Steidl will make their home in Chicago.

Miss Hildegarde Pauli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pauli, and Frank Buss, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Buss, were married at 9 o'clock Monday morning at the parsonage of St. Joseph church. The Rev. Pacificus Rath performed the ceremony. Attendants were Miss Viola Buss and Harry Buss. A wedding dinner and supper was served at the home of the bride's parents. After a week's trip to Chicago, the young couple will reside with the bride's parents.

Mrs. Anna Tuchscherer, 410 W. College-ave, has announced the marriage of her daughter Gertrude, Chicago, formerly of Appleton, to Paul Wixom, Chicago, which took place July 3, at Waukegan. The young couple will reside in Chicago.

Mrs. May Turahler, Marshfield, and Frank Nau, Medina, were married at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. K. M. Siebert, 402 E. Spring-st. Mr. and Mrs. Jake Ringling were the attendants. The Rev. J. A. Holmes performed the ceremony. After an extended trip to Michigan and Marshfield, Mr. and Mrs. Nau will make their home at Medina.

INVITE PYTHIANS TO NEENAH PARTY

Members of Pythian Sisters, Knights of Pythias, and their wives have been invited to attend a reception and dancing party Friday night at Neenah Castle hall in honor of Mrs. Ada Schmutz, who was elected grand chief of Wisconsin at the recent convention. The reception will begin at 8 o'clock and arrangements will be under the direction of the Neenah members.

COLLEGE AWARDS FIRST SENIOR FELLOWSHIP

Annapolis, Md.—(AP)—Robert John Klingenberg of Brooklyn, N. Y., is the first to receive St. Johns College's unique senior fellowship. By the terms of which he attends only such classes or lectures as he wishes, is free from fees and examinations, and can pursue the intellectual life in whatever manner he sees fit. Award of the scholarship to Klingenberg was announced today by the board of visitors and governors of the college, who announced in the spring the plan for this novel step toward complete academic freedom. The holder of the fellowship, which may be awarded each year to three members of the junior class, is virtually a "guest" of the college during his senior year and is assured of his degree, whatever use he makes of his peculiar freedom. The only limitation is revocation of the fellowship for commission of a crime or because the fellow has become insane.

In announcing the choice, it was pointed out as significant that although three elections could be made the board had found only Klingenberg having the qualities justifying the distinction he was given.

CHAPTER IX
SUE's voice, cool and clear and pronounced, came directly into the room and Sue heard, although she wished that she hadn't. "Miss Merryman? Oh yes, her father is one of our guards. I sent him out a few minutes ago to do an errand for me. So his daughter is sharing your secrets? Well, well! Wait until I tell—!" Her voice died down and Sue wondered if there was a special girl whom he did not want to tell. She gathered her pads and pencils and left the office.

Back at her desk she wished again that she were in school. What was it everyone laughed about? Commencement, some trite old phrase? Oh yes! "Beyond the Alps lies Italy!" But when one reached the promised haven there were too many airports, gliding around in the grass to let one have a good time. She was glad when Martin Clinger stopped to talk an instant.

"If you aren't doing anything in particular will you go to a show with me tonight?" he asked, after a few minutes. "I'm lonesome." Sue remembered Grace Metcalf's advice—to accept every invitation for the accompanying experience—a new promise. A few minutes later she was given reports to type and file and was busy until after five o'clock. She was surprised when she glanced at the clock.

"Time goes fast when one is busy," Miss Parson volunteered when she saw Sue look at the clock. "That's why it is so important to have interesting work."

"Didn't you ever want to stop the hands of the clock and make an hour last and last?" Sue asked lightly, more to be sociable than to learn anything.

"Perhaps, but that was so long ago. Now it doesn't matter. It's rather nice to be old because you don't care if the hours hurry or lag. I'll put away the flies, Sue."

She took them and passed down the room to an inner office where they were, and a minute later Jack Thornton came out of his office, whistling a merry tune.

"Working isn't so bad when you get down to it," he said. "Who knows? Maybe I've found Sarah, the helmsman, today. By the way, I forgot to thank you for being a guardian angel today. I'm reporting at nine sharp in the morning." Then he was gone and Sue found her towel and soap and went down the hall to the dressing room which was common property of all girls on the third floor of the building.

Do You Want a Baby?

Regular $100 Treatment sent free—also to each family. "I was married and longed for a baby every day with all my heart, but was denied," writes Mrs. L. Schell, Indianapolis, Ind. "I sent for your prescription and took it. I was unable to express my happiness. I never had a sick day. I became the mother of a fine 8 1/2 pound baby. God only knows our joy. I hope every woman longing for a motherhood will take your medicine. You picture for publication. Thank you."

"Married 11 years and doctors told me I would never have any children," writes Mrs. White, Pa. "I tried your medicine. Now I am to be a mother in October. My dearest wish realized."

Dr. DeFew's treatment, based on Glandular activity, has been used with such results by thousands of women that for the next 30 days he offers to send a full dollar treatment, postpaid, no C.O.D., no cost, no obligation, free to every woman who writes.

Dr. DeFew has set aside 1000 free treatments for this month, so be sure and write today. He will also send a free booklet "Childless Marriages Explained."

Simply send name, a postcard will do, and remedy will be mailed in plain wrapper. Dr. DeFew believes you will be surprised and delighted. Address: Dr. DeFew, Suite 216, Coates House, Kansas City, Mo.

The Tynymites

By Hal Cochran

THE Tynymites could hardly speak. In fact each one of them felt weak. The circus man had given them an auto. Think of that. It looked just big enough for four. Said Scouty, "Who could wish for more?" And then he got excited and began to wave his hat.

"Hurry for everything," he cried. "We're going to have an auto ride. And this machine's our very own. We'll soon chug o'er the land. The boss of all the circus crowd is very kind and should feel proud. Come on, you lazy Tynymites, and give the boss a hand."

So all the bunch began to clap. This made the boss a happy chap. "Oh, that's all right," he calmly said. "You've also been real kind."

The gas was soon put in the tank. The boss said, "There! You need no crank. Just step upon the starter and then throw it into gear. All hop aboard before you start. We'll wave good bye when you depart. If you are all real careful, there'll be nothing you need fear."

The Tynymites hopped in the car and Clowny cried, "We're off for you." And then the little auto started down a winding road. "Good bye, good bye," the circus crew all cried.

She heard voices as she entered the adjoining room and waited a second.

"Who? The new girl in the Thornton, Curtis, Thornton office?" someone asked. "A good looking kid and bright enough but a little slow."

"Sure thing. She thinks Santa Claus still wears a white wig and fairies place respectable maidens at typewriters where Prince Charmings come along. Stepping out tonight, Myrtle?"

"No, are you?"

"You bet. I have a new one this time. Martin Clinger asked me, but I told the lad I had a bigger fish to fry. He'll keep and the other man won't. It's good to make them wait. Keeps them coming. When a fellow is too sure of a girl he'll take his own sweet time just to prove to his vanity that he can make the sun stand still and a maiden listen for the phone! Ready?"

She came from the room so quickly that Sue met her face to face.

NEXT: Sue has a date.

"A great idea," Clowny cried. "I'll drive when we begin to ride. I'm sure that I can steer this thing and keep it going straight. Imagine me, up at the wheel. Just think how wonderful I'll feel. I'll honk the horn and buzz along. Oh, I can hardly wait."

The gas was soon put in the tank. The boss said, "There! You need no crank. Just step upon the starter and then throw it into gear. All hop aboard before you start. We'll wave good bye when you depart. If you are all real careful, there'll be nothing you need fear."

10,000 WHOOP IT UP AS NEW BRIDGE OPENS

Governor Kohler Chief Speaker at Dedication of Structure

Menasha—More than 10,000 people from Menasha, Neenah, Oshkosh, Appleton and Kaukauna attended the evening program at the dedication of the new Tayco-st bridge Saturday night and joined in the spirited midnight demonstration that followed. The cutting of the ribbons by Miss Ethel Held, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. W. E. Held, was the signal for the bottled up enthusiasm to explode.

The banking of hundreds of automobile horns added materially to the din of other horns, fire whistles, sirens, mocking bird whistles and all other noise producing instruments that could be mustered by the crowd. The cutting of the ribbons by Miss Ethel Held, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. W. E. Held, was the signal for the bottled up enthusiasm to explode.

95 FRESHMEN ENROLL AT MENASHA SCHOOL

Menasha—Menasha high school opened Tuesday morning with indications of the largest enrollment in its history. The freshmen registration is 95 which exceeds by far all previous registrations. The vocational and junior high school and grade schools all show substantial gains over last year. The first teachers conference will be held Tuesday afternoon in the junior high school rooms. Class work in the public schools will start Wednesday morning. St. Mary high school and St. Patrick and St. John school also opened Tuesday morning with increased enrollments.

MISSIS RIVER BUT IS TAKEN TO JAIL

Speeder Nearly Goes Into Water and Police Take Care of Him

Menasha—Orville Hagens, route No. 4, Kaukauna, traveling at a high rate of speed, narrowly escaped being plunged into Fox river near the government dock about 9 o'clock Sunday night. His automobile was under such headway that he was unable to make the turn at the corner of Main and Racine streets and struck a concrete post on the bank of the river used as a tying post by boats.

Mayor Walter E. Held was near by at the time and hustled the young man into his automobile and took him to the Clark hospital. His chin was injured and he was bleeding from the mouth and had every appearance of being injured internally. The front end of his automobile was badly damaged.

Hagens was discharged from the hospital after his injuries were dressed and was taken charge of by Neenah police by whom he was wanted. Labor day he was turned over to Menasha police department and was ordered to appear to court Tuesday evening.

ASSESSORS FINISH WORK AT MENASHA

Menasha—Robert Heckner and Joseph Stommel, city assessors have completed their field work and while the exact figures are not available it has been roughly estimated that the increase in assessed valuation of Menasha, both real and personal property, will be considerably more than $600,000. The increase is largely due to new additions to the city. This will bring the total assessed valuation close to $13,000,000.

The board of review which consists of Mayor W. E. Held, City Clerk John J. Wadsworth, N. G. Remmel, Mayor and Mrs. Heckner and Mr. Stommel, convened in their annual session at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning at the municipal offices.

MENASHA PERSONALS

Menasha—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur DeHate of Stambaugh, Mich., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Rippl over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pankratz of Chicago are visiting Menasha relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bigley of Chicago were among the out of town people who attended the dedication of the new Tayco-st bridge Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Jourdain and children were guests Sunday of Manitowish friends.

Clarence Stengel of Appleton and Harvey of Menasha were Sheboygan visitors Labor day.

Barney McGuckie, A. Schroeder and A. W. Sheelen of Milwaukee were Menasha visitors Labor day.

Menasha—The monthly meeting of the common council will be held Tuesday evening at the city hall. The session will be occupied mostly with routine business.

DOUBLE WIN GIVES LEAGUE PENNANT TO NEE-MENASHA TEAM

Trample Over Fond du Lac Sunday and Wallop Marinette Monday

Menasha—Nee-Menasha won the Fox River Valley home talent baseball league pennant Sunday by defeating Marinette in the last game of the season by a score of 10 to 3. Zenefski pitched for the Pails and allowed nine hits, walked one and struck out eight while his mates pounded Drafz and Sharkey for 14 hits, seven of which were two baggers and one a home run by Zenefski. Jerry Powell was the hitting star of the game with four two base hits. Two of his hits went far over the left field fence.

Neither team scored in the first inning but in the second Powell opened for Menasha with a double. Lewandowski sacrificed, Beach singled and Powell scored. Handler walked and Zenefski was thrown out at first. Welsgerber hit one to left field for two bases and Beach and Handler scored. Welsgerber then scored on Muench's single. Sheleski flew out.

Marinette scored its first run in the third inning when with two away Danell singled and scored on a two bagger by Ueckle. In the fourth inning Zenefski, first man up, for Menasha hit one over the right field fence for a home run. This was the first home run hit in the Menasha ball park since the first game of the season.

Neither team scored in the fifth but in the sixth, Wray opened the inning with a single, and when to second on Bresnahan's single. Both men advanced a base on an infield out and scored on a single by Peterson. An error, a stolen base and a double by Powell gave Menasha its sixth run in the seventh inning.

The Pails scored four more runs in the eighth inning on four hits and an error. Handler opened the inning by striking out. Zenefski doubled. Welsgerber was safe on an error. Zenefski taking third, from where he scored on Muench's single to center. Sheleski hit a double to left center field and Welsgerber and fourth double of the day and Sheleski Muench scored. Powell then hit his scored Menasha's tenth and last run.

Menasha—Nee-Menasha defeated Fond du Lac Sunday by a score of 8-5. Nixon pitched for Menasha and Hanson was on the mound for Fondy. Both pitchers were hit hard, the Pails combining the offering of Hanson for twelve hits and eight runs while Fond du Lac got ten safeties and five runs.

Fond du Lac started the scoring in the first inning when Haleman and Senecal were safe on errors. Faris rolled out to first. Jensen hit to the shortstop who threw to Haleman in time to put out Haleman. Then pounded a double to left and Senecal and Jensen scored. Long singled to center and Bonczuk stopped at third. Eucher ended the inning by striking out.

Menasha came right back in the home half of the first to score five times. Welsgerber flew out. Muench went to third when the center fielder dropped his long fly to left center. Powell struck out. Sheleski doubled to center field and Muench and Leopold scored. Lewandowski doubled scoring Sheleski. Beach was safe on another error by the center fielder and Lewandowski scored. Handler was safe on an error and Beach went to third from where he scored on Nixon's single to left field. Welsgerber was thrown out at first for the third out.

NEW "HUNGRY FIVE" INTERESTS MENASHANS

Menasha—Five members of Menasha high school band, who call themselves "The Hungry Five" made quite a hit at the dedication of the new Tayco-st bridge Saturday evening by furnishing impromptu concerts on the street and in some of the business places. Their music was so much enjoyed that they were engaged to furnish music at the ball game on Labor day and do street advertising for a theatre. They also have been engaged to furnish music at a sale to be given by local merchants later in the week.

SOCIAL ITEMS AT MENASHA

Menasha—Applications for marriage licenses have been made to the county clerk at Oshkosh by August Smith and Hedwig Dombrowski, Menasha; Leonard Jedwabny and Stella Karkowski, Menasha; John A. Lounakowski and Anna M. Markovitch, Menasha, and Harvey A. Roebke, Oshkosh, and Rose Pawloski, Menasha.

Miss Elsie Berndt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Berndt of the town of Clayton and Rudolph Rine of Menasha were married at noon Saturday at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George A. Clifford, pastor. The attendants were Miss Margaret Reinhardt, sister of the bridegroom, and Mose Rouse, brother of the bride.

Miss Theresa Rouse, 351 Nassau, Menasha, and Robert Reinhart, Neenah, were married at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Patrick church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George A. Clifford, pastor. The attendants were Miss Margaret Reinhart, sister of the bridegroom, and Mose Rouse, brother of the bride.

MILWAUKEE MAN FINED FOR TROLLING FISH

Neenah—J. W. Koch of Milwaukee, was arrested Saturday on Lake Poygan where he was caught trolling for fish from a motor driven boat. He was brought to Justice Jensen's court by Game Warden A. Dunham, arresting officer, where he was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $50 and cost which he did.

LIBRARY CIRCULATION SHOWS BIG INCREASE

Neenah—The total circulation of books during the month of August at the public library was 4396 according to the monthly report by Miss Mae Hart, librarian. This is a gain over the same month last year. Of this 2,972 books were taken out by adult readers and 2,972 by children. The rural circulation and 125 and the number of books repaired and returned to the shelves were 83. There were 517 readers who took advantage of the reading and reference rooms during the month with an addition of 12 new patrons.

COUNCIL TO CONSIDER ELECTRIC SIGN PLEA

Neenah—The city council will hold its monthly meeting Wednesday evening at the council chamber. Action will be taken on an application of the Brin theatre company to place a steel and glass canopy and large electric sign over the entrance of the Neenah theatre which is now being remodeled preparatory to opening later in the month.

NEENAH SOCIETY

Neenah—Licenses to marry have been issued by George Manuel, Neenah city clerk, to Ferdinand Dierhaupt and Elsie C. Cook and to Elmer Schultheis and Edna L. Rappager, all of Neenah.

Members of the Drahelm Special softball team, which won the Young Men's league championship, will be entertained Tuesday evening at a dinner by William C. Drahelm at the Valley Inn.

The Winchester church ladies' society will give its annual harvest chicken supper and sale Thursday evening at the church basement.

The Eagle lodge will meet Thursday evening at the acric hall for its monthly session. The acric will meet twice a month instead of once a month, as was the rule during the summer.

NEENAH POLICE ARREST 14 OVER DOUBLE HOLIDAY

Most Defendants Picked Up for Being Drunk or Disorderly

Neenah—Fourteen arrests were made over the weekend and Labor day by the police according to reports from Charles Waita, chief of police. Disorderly conduct and drunkenness were the charges preferred in most cases.

Ole Olson of Junction City, arrested on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, will appear in court Tuesday evening; George Longhurst paid a fine of $5 and costs for disorderly conduct; Otto Hildebrand of Menasha, paid a fine of $10 and costs for being drunk and disorderly; Norbert Keefe, arrested on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, will appear later in court to answer to the charge; Albert Johnson, Howard Smith, Joe Plomondor, Anthony Mollet and Forest Lemke, 500 line sectionmen, paid fines of from $5 to $10 each on charges of disorderly conduct; Earl Grapengruber of Appleton, paid a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of being drunk and disorderly; W. Mielke was given a 30-day county jail sentence for disobeying the soft drink ordinance.

Fred Boston was given a 10 day sentence at Winnebago jail in a charge of being drunk and disorderly and Orville Hogens of Hollandtown, arrested on the same charge, paid a fine of $5 and costs. The latter was taken in custody Sunday night at Menasha after he had been driving his car in a reckless manner about the streets and colliding with a telephone pole near the Menasha dock. He was taken to Theda Clark hospital for treatment for slight injuries and it was while at the hospital that he was disorderly while residing in his arrest. He was afterwards taken to Menasha where he was tried on a charge of driving his car while intoxicated. Miss Doris Stramer charged with embezzlement, was taken to Oshkosh Tuesday morning. The charge was made by a local store where she has been employed.

LARSEN IS ELECTED BROTHERHOOD TRUSTEE

Neenah—Peter Larson of Appleton, member of the Neenah Danish Brotherhood lodge and delegate to the state convention which closed Monday at Oshkosh, was elected one of the trustees of the state organization. Other officers elected were Andrew Anderson of Oshkosh, president; Fred Fredrickson, Marinette, vice president; N. K. Rasmussen, Racine, secretary; T. Kriel, Milwaukee, treasurer; E. Peterson, Escanaba, Mich., and E. Nelson, Madison, Wis., were also elected.

The next convention will be held at Neenah and the sessions were largely attended, many Neenah people taking part in the activities. The Danish Sisterhood also held its annual convention at the same place as the Brotherhood.

TWIN CITY SOFTBALLERS PLAY FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Neenah—The first game of softball in the inter-city tournament between the Gear team of Menasha and the Bergstrom Paper company team of Neenah, for the twin city championship, will be played at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening at Columbia park diamond. The Gear team won the Neenah playground championship this season and the Bergstrom won at the Neenah playgrounds.

SPORTSMEN ABANDON PLANS FOR PICNIC

Neenah—Twin City Sportsman club has abandoned the annual picnic which was to have been held during the present month and instead an illustrated lecture is to be given on the evening of Sept. 13, by Chicago and Northwestern railway officials at Menasha community building. A suitable place for holding the picnic could not be found. The Menasha meeting will be held a few days before the opening of the duck hunting season.

BURNED APPLE TREE HAS 2ND FLOWER CROP

Neenah—An apple tree in the Henry Zook yard on First-st is in blossom for the second time this season. The tree was burned last month ago during the fire which destroyed the Henry Oelke wood and coal yard and surrounding property, but part of the tree survived and is now covered with blossoms.

BLAST OUT ROCKS TO MAKE WAY FOR SEWER

Neenah—The explosions guard throughout the day are caused by dynamite used by the sewer construction crew working on the Columbian sewer. Many large boulders buried underneath the ground have to be blasted in order to remove them. The work has progressed to a point east of Walnut-st, a little over half way to the end of the street.

ELECT OFFICERS AT MEETING OF LEGION

Neenah—The American Legion post will meet Wednesday evening at S. A. Cook armory. Officers will be elected, followed by a social and lunch.

BOWLERS MEET TONIGHT TO PLAN FOR SEASON

Neenah—Bowlers will meet at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening at the Neenah alleys to make arrangements for the winter. All team captains are expected to be present Tuesday evening to report on their plans.

REVIEW BOARD MEETS

Neenah—The board of review met Tuesday morning at the city hall and will be in session until Sept. 12. During this time the board will listen to assessment objections.

Cultural Measures Help To Curb Pest Of Insects

BY CHARLES H. MARTIN (United States Department of Agriculture)

Cultural measures play a considerable part in the prevention of insect injury on ornamentals. Cleaning the premises destroys numerous overwintering places for various insects. Fall and spring plowing or spading gets rid of untold numbers of eggs and other resting stages of insects present in the soil.

Vigorous, healthy plants can withstand attack much better than sickly, weak plants. An effective substitute for chemical sprays for some insects, especially the red spider mite, is spraying with clear water. The plants should be frequently and thoroughly syringed from different angles, thus washing off the insects. For a small number of plants, hand picking the caterpillars is often effective.

Plants should not be sprayed unless insects are actually doing damage. Chemical sprays will destroy tender leaves and tips if solutions are too strong. It is always best to follow directions that come with the package.

In choosing proper sprays it is necessary to decide whether the pest is chewing the plant tissue or sucking the sap. Stomach poisons are used for chewing insects, while contact sprays that kill by burning, suffocating, or poisoning through the breathing apparatus are used for sucking insects.

The standard stomach poison is lead arsenate. Many insects succumb to a spray solution of this arsenical in which proportions are: For small quantities—3 teaspoonfuls of powder to 1 gallon of water. For large quantities—1 pound of powder to 80 gallons of water.

For very resistant insects upon which the above dosage may be made twice as strong (i. e., 6 teaspoonfuls of the powder to a gallon of water, or 2 pounds to 50 gallons). It must be remembered, however, that the more tender plants and delicate flowers cannot stand the stronger solution. If plants are smooth or glossy leaved the addition of 1 ounce of soap to each gallon of water will help spread the insecticide and make it stick.

For the ordinary gardener, nicotine sulphate is the contact insecticide most easily handled. This concentrate, which may be bought at any drug store, or implement store, usually contains not less than 40 per cent of nicotine. At this strength the following dilutions may be used. For small quantities—1 to 1 1/4 teaspoonfuls to 1 gallon of water. For larger quantities—1 fluid ounce to 8 gallons of water.

To each gallon of water add 1 ounce of common laundry or fish-oil soap. This spray is used for such insects as plant lice, or aphids, thrips and scale insects.

WIFE, 19, MARRIED AT 17, IS GIVEN DIVORCE

Neenah—Jeanette Huebner, 19, has obtained a divorce from Alvin Huebner on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. Her father, E. C. Baxter, appeared as guardian ad litem. Mrs. Huebner stated to the court that her husband was eight years her senior and that they were married Oct. 5, 1927 at Neenah. There is one child. According to the plaintiff, her husband represented to her before their marriage that he had $1,000 in the bank. After their marriage she found he had nothing, and he insisted upon her going to work and turning her wages over to him, she also testified that she was not physically able to work, and asserted her husband constantly quarreled with her and found fault. She is now supporting herself, the father verifying the testimony. Under the terms of the decree she obtains the household furniture and the custody of the child. The defendant is to pay $20 a month for the support of the child.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL OPENS NEXT MONDAY

Neenah—Sessions at the vocational school will begin next Monday. The vocational school will be conducted at the new Senior high school where the machinery and equipment has been installed and ready for use under direction of Carl Christensen. The grade school manual training department will be conducted at Kimberly high school where some equipment has been installed.

INSURANCE MAN HURT IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK

Neenah—Gordon Pope, field representative for the Equitable Fraternal union, is in a Green Bay hospital with injuries received Sunday night when the automobile in which he was riding collided with another car. The extent of his injuries have not been ascertained but the car is a total wreck.

MENASHA PASTOR TALKS AT KIWANIS MEETING

Neenah—The Rev. John B. pastor of Menasha Congregational church, will be the speaker Wednesday noon at the Kiwanis luncheon and meeting of Kiwanis club. The meeting will be held at 12:05 at the sign of the Fox.

K-C GOLFERS PLAY QUALIFYING ROUNDS

Neenah—Qualifying rounds in the Kimberly-Clark golf tournament are to be played Saturday and Sunday at their summer home, have returned home. The Theodore Johnson and granddaughter are spending the week with relatives at Sarville.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Toepfer have returned from a visit with relatives at Milwaukee and Waukesha. George Stelzer and son and Albert Purvis and son of Chicago, are visiting at the Edward Carlin summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller and daughter and Miss Francis Jackson have returned from an auto trip through Missouri where they visited relatives. A daughter was born Monday at Theda Clark hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McLeod of Chicago.

"SUFFERED 25 YEARS, KONJOLA MADE ME WELL"

Lady, Who Bought in Vain For Relief, Calls New Medicine Best in the World

MRS. ANNA GLASS

"I suffered for twenty-five years and then Konjola made me well again," said Mrs. Anna Glass, Dallas City, Illinois. "During all those years I was the victim of catarrh, stomach trouble and neuritis. Nervousness was the natural result from these ailments. I could not eat a meal without becoming weak and afterward Neuritis pains were so severe that I could not describe them."

"Just as I was told it would do, Konjola went to the source of my troubles. Catarrh was banished; indigestion became a thing of the past and the neuritis pains were driven from my body. Now there is a trace of those ailments and I am enjoying life like other healthy, normal persons."

Konjola is sold in Appleton at Schlicht Bros. Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section."

USING to the heights in their game against Kaukauna and sliding to the depths at Wisconsin Rapids, Applegate and Fords divided the weekend's brand and rang down the curtain in the Fox River Valley league with a standing that isn't so good and might easily have been better.

At Kaukauna Sunday the Fords landed hard on their old mate, Refike, and he retired under a barrage of blows in the ninth inning. The score was Appleton 9, Kaukauna 6.

The Wisconsin Rapids game was almost a duplicate of the fiasco at Green Bay a couple weeks ago and when the tussle was over the Rapids looked like a million dollars with a 12 to 3 victory for the season's last.

Naturally, because the Fords won the Kaukauna game was most interesting. The Fords counted a tally in the first half the second when Hillman broke his long string of strikeouts and doubled scoring on a single by Nicodem.

But the Kaws came right back in their half the encounter, and by some clever baseball that caught the Fords napping literally shoved two runs across the plate and took the lead.

Said lead didn't last long, however, for in the Appleton half the fourth Murphy singled and Tarnow was safe on an error. Hillman then laid down a sacrifice bunt and Dats Crowe put the ball over the fence and out in the river. Nicodem followed with a double and scored on Ritten's single and the Fords had four runs and a nice margin.

The Fords registered again in the sixth inning when Rogers walked and stole second with one out, however, and tried to get the mask off of his throwing hand, moved ahead on an infield cut and scored on Fols's single.

And then came the ninth inning and three more runs which, as it turned out, were really needed. Eggert grounded out to start the inning, and then Leo Murphy came to the plate. He picked one to his liking and it landed against the ice house away out in center field. Sonny Tarnow singled to third and Arnie Hillman dropped the ball out in the creek for a home run and cleared the bases.

The Kaws made things interesting in the ninth and tallied four runs themselves. Ritten, who had breezed along in big league fashion, was tired under the pace and the sun and he let R. Smith single, then Crowe and Tarnow followed with a double and a single and then Leo Murphy came to the plate. Walsh, Kirkwood Entertain Appleton Golfers In Match At Butte des Morts Club

Professionals Tie in Medal Play but Appleton Mentor Wins Match

FRANK WALSH, Butte des Morts professional, and Joe Kirkwood, noted Chicago trick shot golfer, entertained about 150 golf fans Sunday afternoon by negotiating Butte des Morts course in 60 strokes each. Walsh won the match on the eighteenth green, 1 up. It was a match filled with sensational shots, none more so than Kirkwood's first effort—a drive over No. 1 green—330 yards from the tee. The Chicagoan followed this feat by holing out his approach shot for an eagle, probably the first ever made on that hole.

It was a beautiful golf match, both players making excellent shots which earned the applause of the gallery, and Kirkwood topped off his afternoon's performance with a demonstration of trick shooting that left the crowd dizzy. He demonstrated conclusively that golf is an easy game, requiring nothing more than the will to hit the ball straight. He didn't make as much fuss about shooting the ball off August Brandt's watch as the average golfer does about sinking an 8-inch putt, and he blazed away with a ball perched on a caddy's foot with as much aplomb as if he were swinging a club in the practice field. Kirkwood proved himself quite an entertainer, with an interesting line that kept his audience in good humor. But to get back to that golf match. MATCH PLAYED OVER NEW ONEIDA COURSE; WALSH BEATS DENNY

"Top" Members of Appleton Course Are Beaten; Ken Dickinson Loses

BUTTE des Morts golfers won their match from the Oneida Golf and Riding club niblick welders Saturday afternoon, 57 to 52, but it will be several days before they are thoroughly recovered from the punishment their feet and legs received on the huge and tough Green Bay course.

It should be said in justice, however, that Green Bay was overcome by sheer force of numbers, Butte des Morts sending such an army of golfers to the Bay city that the Oneida club had to call on its golfers way down to the honorary members to provide competition, and even then a number of Appleton players were unmatched. Most of Appleton's "tops" went down under the flashy golf played by the Green Bay stars on their home course, but the so and so boys, starting between 45 and 50 on Butte des Morts course, upset the so and so boys from Oneida, but they were getting a whole lot more than 50 on that Green Bay layout.

Frank Walsh, the Butte des Morts pro, furnished the fireworks of the afternoon by negotiating the course in par 72 in his match with Harley O. Denny, who teaches the Oneida boys how to swing a club. Walsh won the match 3 to 0 and his 72 was the first par ever made on the course. That is just a slight indication of how tough it is. Denny took an 80.

A total of 108 men took part in the tournament, the largest of its kind ever held in northeastern Wisconsin. The first foursome got away about 1:30 and the shades of night were falling when the last golfer dragged his weary body up the 75 foot cliff from the 18th green to the clubhouse.

Frank Kerwin of Green Bay, blazed away for a 75 to beat Ken Dickinson, former state amateur champion, 76 to 0 and Jim Halpin, another Green Bay star, negotiated the 18 greens in 78 pokes, romping off with Harry Oaks to take a 3 to 0 win.

Butte des Morts golfers have kept their state clean so far this season, taking on all comers, but they were mighty glad when the battle of Oneida was over. Here's how the niblick welders finished:

Walsh displayed considerable putting skill, getting around the 18 greens with 28 putts. Kirkwood took 31 in the same distance. After the match Kirkwood blazed away with trick shots for almost an hour. The outstanding feature of these shots was the ease with which he slammed the ball, walking up to it in sort of a happy-go-lucky fashion and sending it far away without any perceptible effort. It was a splendid demonstration of how a golf ball should be hit by a man who knows how to hit it.

Pocan and Chi Sox Buddy

A week or so ago "Squaw" Pocan, crack hurler on the Kimberly-Little Chute ball club, was missing from his usual haunts and it finally was reported he was on a vacation. The vacation was spent at Chicago where "Poke" went to see the White Sox and Yankees play ball and, incidentally, to see a Sox hurler by the name of Mo-Bain who was a buddy of Pocan in the Mississippi league. "Poke" had a camera along and got this picture of him and his old side kick. He also picked up a couple shots of Babe Ruth, Herb Pennock, Wiley Moore, and last but not least nature's greatest gift to baseball—the "great Shirts."

Chocolate Singer Bout A Dud Romano Claims

BY JOHN J. ROMANO
Copyright 1929
NEW YORK — Kid Chocolate now boasts a decision over Al Singer and will set sail after Andre Routis for a crack at the featherweight title. In winning over Singer the Cuban Dandy made the sorriest showing of his campaign in American rings and if one is to judge by his last performance as to what he will show when facing a good man, the Cuban may fall short of his aim to annex a world's title.

Chocolate fought a defensive fight but the extent of the damage inflicted by these blows was a slight cut on Al's right cheek bone.

Singer was over-anxious and led with his left futilely. His blows fell short of their mark and opened a clear passage for his opponent's countering blows.

Singer got over several straight rights and if any damage was done to Singer, because Chocolate called on his ring experience and plunged in head first with both fists dalling the air in the direction of his opponent. Singer was forced to cover up to avoid being hit by one of Chocolate's wide swings.

The Singer-Chocolate bout was true to the form of all over-emphasized contests. Both boys were expected to tear loose, with brilliant spurts of boxing, hit out sharp and true and plenty of reworks were expected to explode.

To sum up in one simple word, it was a dud as far as any sustained action was concerned. The preliminaries furnished more real action than the much advertised star bout and the fifty thousand or more dollars Singer and Chocolate added to their respective bank accounts was easy money and the spectators were the losers in the long run.

The decision went against Singer. It might have been called the other way and no damage would have been done. A draw would have been a just verdict and the probability of a return match would be the topic of the day. If the boys are brought together again it is a cinch the spectators will have their fingers crossed hoping against hope that it will not be a repetition of their last affair.

Ponca City, Okla. — Babe Hunt, Oklahoma City, outpointed Jack De-mave, Hoboken, N. J. (10).

CONTEST WILL BE ATHLETIC FEATURE AT FAIR WEDNESDAY

Pocan Will Toss for Villagers and Lefty Ritten for Appleton

APPLETON and Kimberly-Little Chute teams in the Fox River valley baseball league will hook up in an exhibition game Wednesday afternoon as the feature athletic attraction at the Hortonville fair.

The teams are natural enemies and although the Fords have been beaten twice, it was the Appleton squad that started Kimberly on its slide out of first place and the league pennant a few weeks ago. So of course, Marty Lamers and company would just as soon hand the Fords a neat trimming as a last reminder of the 1929 season.

Left Ritten will be used against the Kim-Chuters and with a four day rest should be in condition to pitch a real article of baseball. He has had considerable luck against the villagers and there is no reason why he can't repeat.

Clarence Pocan will draw the assignment to toss for the ex-champions and with a couple days rest he too, should be ready to hook up in a hurling duel. The personnel of the Kimberly team will be the same as that in recent games.

Indications are the Fords will present a changed lineup for Wednesday's game. Nicodem who has been playing short complained about not feeling well Monday at the Rapids and no doubt will be missing. Kotal probably will go back to short, send Eggert to third and Radtke to first. The latter has been with the squad all season in a utility role and probably would appreciate working a full game for a change. He stretched his six foot something a couple times at the Rapids Sunday and looked good.

The game will begin about 2:30.

TOM NASH RETURNS TO BAY PACKERS

All-American End Signs With Big Bay Blues for Another Season

Green Bay — With a week to go before the opening practice, the Packers football team is not quite complete, but it plans that Capt. E. L. "Curly" Lambeau has in mind go through in the next few days at least five more players will be added to the roster before the first season.

Lambeau started the home stretch today with the announcement of receipt of Tom Nash's contract. Nash is the big All-American end that saw service with the Packers last season. He had some trouble with his legs at the start of the year and as a consequence did not show as well as he might have done had he been in perfect condition.

Nash, in a letter accepting terms with the Packers, reported that he was in fine condition now, and that he was prepared to show local fans some real football.

His first gained fame with the University of Georgia team, and in his senior year was picked on almost every All-American team in the country. The big Georgian is the property of the New York Giants baseball club and it was feared that John McGraw might object to Nash performing on the gridiron again, but he did not do so. Nash was with Buffalo at the start of the baseball year but was loaned out to Charlotte, N. C., or the Eastern Atlantic league.

KIM-LITTLE CHUTE ENDS SEASON WITH WIN OVER FONDY

Villagers Play Even Until Ninth Inning and Then Score 12 Runs

KIMBERLY—As all baseball games go one team is always victorious and the other is left on the tail end of the score and lament the fact—but not all teams are so "lucky" as to win by a 19-7 margin as the Kimberly-Little Chutes did over Fond du Lac in a Fox River Valley league game here Labor Day.

The Papermakers started the game with Vanderloop in the box and Hartjes behind the plate. Vandy pitched four and one-half innings allowing 5 hits, fanned out five men, walked four. Boots Lamers relieved Vandy in the fifth after three runs had been scored and two men were down. Boots struck out two men, walked one, and allowed two hits and two runs. In the meantime the Papermakers had only scored seven runs, the score looking not so good to the Hollanders. Poca then was put in in the seventh to pull his team out of the hole. He did it and very successfully. "Poke" held the invaders to their seven points, while his own team scored twelve.

The Papermakers did nothing during the seventh, eighth and ninth. With two men out and two on base the chances of breaking the tie in that frame looked slim for the home boys. They threw out their chins and with a little determination showed the fans what they could do. To start the frame Versteegen walked, Len Smith sacrificed sending "Chips" to second, Marty Lamers reached first on an error by Paris. Boots Lamers was thrown out sending Chips to third and Marty to second on fielders choice. Schramm deliberately walked Poca and leading the bases. Vanderloop then came to the plate and socked a triple for his first hit of the game, scoring Versteegen, Lamers and Lamers. Then, the next man up hit a single. Hartjes walked, Theln stole second and third and Hartjes stole second. Skell hit a single scoring Theln and Hartjes. Versteegen doubled, Smith tripled scoring "Chips," Marty Lamers doubled and brought Len home. Boots, at first singled, Poca singled bringing Marty and Boots home. Vanderloop singled. Then was walked, Hartjes singled but Skell flew to Halfman in left field and ended the game for the Papermakers.

Sports Question Box

Question—Two are out and the bases are full. Batter hits over the fence for a home run. Runner on third fails to touch home. Umpire puts a new ball in play and tosses it to the pitcher who throws to the catcher. The latter touches home late. Umpire calls the runner out. How many scores?

Answer—None. The batter forced his runner out. If he did not touch one plate there was no help for him.

Question—Is Santiago Zorilla an American Indian?

Answer—No. Zorilla belongs to the tribe of San Blas, in the interior of Panama.

Question—Batter hits the ball and hits home plate and rolls to the baseman. Is it fair or foul?

Answer—If the baseman got to the ball on fair ground it is fair.

ED TERRIS TO MEET PETE NEBO TONIGHT

New York—(AP)—Sid Terris, once idol of the east side, stakes his years of experience against the youthful speed and punch of Pete Nebo, Seminole Indian from Tampa, La., in a ten round bout at the meadow stadium tonight. Terris' meadow campaign in recent months has not been without its successes but most flaccid experts figure a one time "Ghetto ghost" is in for trouncing tonight. Nebo cut quite figure in the featherweight class rears to do the same thing now none the lightweights.

Unknown Steals Show At Amateur Meet As Jones Crashes Through With 70

Gibson Dunlap, Los Angeles, Negotiates Pebble Beach Course in 69

BY ALAN J. GOULD
EBBLE BEACH, CALIF.—(AP)—The echoes of two booming rounds of golf rolled back from the mountains across Carmel Bay today as the battle of Pebble Beach, with the amateur championship of the United States at stake, surged into the final qualifying round.

The first big shot fired was a rousing 70, two under par by the defending champion and top-heavy favorite of the whole field, Bobby Jones, in the first eighteen hole test yesterday. The reverberations of this had scarcely gone out to set when along came a slim, curly haired youth of 21, Gibson Dunlap of Los Angeles, with the game and the courage to post a sensational 69, thereby taking the lead unceremoniously from the king and establishing a new competitive record for one of the hardest of all championship courses.

This double barreled opening day thrill was all that could be desired by even the most enthusiastic of nearly 10,000 California fans, cheering the start of the first national championship ever brought to the Pacific slope's rocky shores.

It paved the way for a stirring tussle in the final 18 holes of the qualifying competition today, the result of which will determine the 1929 medalist and decide the 32 low scores among the starting field of 141 eligible for continuation at match play.

The man-to-man competition begins Wednesday with two 18 hole rounds. No matter what else may happen to him, over a course that plays no favorites, it oceans of water and tons of sand have anything to say about it, the hero of the first sidish of Pebble Beach is Gibson Dunlap.

SINKS 18 FOOT PUTT

The cherring ten thousand followed Bobby Jones from start to finish, getting an eyeful of the master shot-maker's golf at its best, but they remained massed around the home hole to roar an ovation to the California boy who knew what he had to do to beat the champion and did it. He said himself he got his biggest "kick" out of the fine spoon shot he smashed close to the home green from a difficult lie but the crowd's outburst followed the sinking of an 18 foot putt for the birdie four that clinched his 69. Jones had to hole a ten footer for his own "birdie" on the eighteenth but Dunlap put over an even more spectacular finish.

Throughout his round, the young Los Angeles star putted with deadly accuracy, sinking a 40 footer on the second hole for an eagle three as a forerunner of what he paid in stock. For the day at least his notched Ben Sayers' blade was more effective than Bobby's famous "Calamity Jane."

Dunlap, a junior at the university of California at Los Angeles, spent most of his early golfing years in the Chicago district before moving to the Pacific coast. He has figured in a number of big tournaments in Illinois, as well as out here, winning the southern intercollegiate championship last year. He has a half-swing with his iron shots that produces consistent accuracy.

NEED 156 TO QUALIFY

With the prospect that it would take at the most 156 to qualify, the majority of stars occupied seemingly safe positions going into the second round, with three notable exceptions. These were George Vogt of New York, the 1928 medalist, who needed 80 yesterday; Chick Evans of Chicago, former champion, with 81, and Phillips Finlay, long hitting Californian contender and a pre-tournament favorite, who started badly with an 82. All needed to get on better speaking terms with old man par today to avoid elimination.

Should either Dunlap or Jones slip off their fast pace, a group of five stars, each with a par 72 for the first round appeared ready to step up and bid for medal honors. In this group were Don Moe, the western champion and Dr. O. F. Willing, both of Portland, Ore.; Harrison R. Johnston of St. Paul; Eugene Homans of Englewood, N. J., and Roland Mackenzie of Washington, D. C. Another "dark horse" John E. Lehman of Gary, Ind., ex-college player, while the 75 notch embraced Cyril Tolley, British title holder, George von Elm of Detroit, William K. Lamm of Columbus, O., and Vincent Dolp, another Portland, Ore., entry. Francis Oulmet of Boston, and Eustace Storey of England, were at 76, with Ross Somerville of Canada, Jess Sweetser of New York, Frank Delp of Portland, Ore., Eddie Heid of New York and Rudy Knepfer of Chicago, in the 78 group.

START SHOWING WINTER STYLES

French Dress Makers Decrie Knickers Shall Be Worn in Coming Season

BY AILEEN LAMONT
Copyright 1929 by Cons. Press New York—Having worn as little as possible during the last year women seem likely, if they follow the French designs to wear considerably more this winter. Many of the models now being imported from Paris consist of a coat, a skirt and knickers of soft material worn under the skirt with the leg bands showing below the skirt hem. This style does not apply to daytime or informal dress alone. Similar knickers are worn for afternoon or evening in silk.

The dressmakers are doing nearly everything they can do with fur. The new styles feature ties and gilets of fur. They emphasize fur waistcoats and fur incrustations on both hats and coats. Among the popular furs—for these uses are ermine for evening, beaver, krummer, astrakhan, fox, lynx and breichswanz.

STOCKINGS SHADES

Names mean little or nothing when it comes to shades in stockings but it is evident from a glance over the color cards that whatever the names shades are likely to be darker this fall. One prime favorite is a dark brown with a rose cast which goes well with brown costumes. A dark skin shade is often chosen, while cafter will be used in contrast with dark brown shoes. Grays will have a slight bluish cast and the sun tan hose will be darkened slightly for fall. Many of the clocked hose have zig-zag designs.

When the long drouth is broken, the rains will find a new rain shedder to contend with. It is what the English who know all about umbrellas call the "peep hole gamp." The gamp or umbrella has a neat little window of isinglass set in one edge of the front panel and the carrier is able to hold the "broily" over her head and still cast roughish glances from beneath the brim at passers-by.

KANSAS CITY PLAYS LAST SERIES WITH SAINT PAUL CLUB

Mike Kelley's Club Picks Up Two Games Over Weekend; Returns One Monday

BY WILLIAM A. WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO—(AP)—Trailing the league leaders by 10 games St. Paul today went into its final series of the season against the Kansas City Blues, hopeful of slowing up Dutch Zwilling's band.

The Saints picked up two games on the Blues Saturday and Sunday, but gave back one yesterday. Kansas City required just one inning to break the spell of the Milwaukee Brewers which had taken a toll of two games, while the Saints divided the holiday assignment with Minneapolis.

The Blues wrecked Milwaukee in the ninth inning of yesterday's morning game. After the Brewers had hammered out seven runs to take a 10 to 4 lead, Kansas City revolted and scored seven in the first of the ninth to win by 11 to 10. St. Paul took the first game from Minneapolis by a 6 to 5 count, although the Mills had a 12 to 5 advantage in the hitting. The Mills continued to hit in the afternoon tilt, and blasted four Saint chukkers for 26 hits and a 20 to 5 smothering.

Toledo's winning streak, which reached eight games when they took the morning affair from Columbus, was broken in the afternoon by a 12 to 8 Senator triumph. Slicker Parks outpitched St. Johnson and Marian Vysong to notch an 8 to 5 decision in the morning and Pete Jablonowski outlasted Parmelee, Welland and McQuillan in the final clash.

Indianapolis and Louisville also divided the spoils of the day. Jonnard hurled excellent ball to boost the Indians to a 10 to 2 win in the morning game 13 innings.)

CUBS MAY LOSE FOUR GAMES BUT DRAW GATES

Chicago—(AP)—Blowing four out of five games in their last series at Pittsburgh only enhanced the popularity of the Cubs at home, if attendance figures mean anything.

More than 125,000 fans milled and perspired in Wrigley field Sunday and Monday while the Cubs were taking three straight from the Cardinals. And they came to cheer the team that had dropped four out of five games to its nearest rival for the National league leadership. Yesterday morning's game attracted 35,000 fans, an unusual number for a before lunch contest. The afternoon tilt drew nearly 46,000 and Sunday's game was witnessed by 46,000. At the rate they are packing their home park the Cubs will surpass by a wide margin, the National league season attendance record of more than 1,200,000 set by the Cubs of 1927.

MILWAUKEE BOYS TO BATTLE FOR NET TITLE

LEADERS INCREASE MARGINS AS RESULT OF WEEKEND GAMES

New York Yankees Lose Two to Philadelphia Athletics, 10-3, 6-5

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

IF there existed any reasonable doubts about either major league pennant race, the Labor day double-header baseball feast seems to have dispelled them.

Victory in both ends of yesterday's double bill with the Yankees enabled the Philadelphia Athletics to lengthen their American league advantage to 13 1/2 games. Simultaneously, the Chicago Cubs widened the gap separating them from second place Pittsburgh to 12 1/2 games by trouncing St. Louis twice.

The A's beat the Yankees by 10 to 3 and 6 to 5.

The Cleveland Indians moved into third place by downing the previous holders, St. Louis, 2 to 1 and 9 to 5.

Six runs in the last two innings gave Detroit a 10-5 victory over Chicago in the first game of a double bill but the White Sox easily took the nightcap, 8 to 12.

The Washington Senators and Boston Red Sox split even, Washington taking the first game, 10 to 7, and Boston the second, 7 to 12.

The Cubs won two slugging affairs with the Cardinals, 11-7 and 12-10. All told the Cubs pounded five cardinal pitchers for 36 hits, including 8 doubles and three home runs. The Cards were not far behind with 32 hits off three Cub pitchers, including eight doubles, one triple and two home runs. Rogers Hornsby hit for the circuit in each game to bring his season's total to 32. Hack Wilson got his thirty-fifth homer in the opener.

Pittsburg dropped the first game to Cincinnati, 7 to 5, but won the second in 13 innings, 9 to 8.

The New York Giants swamped the Phillies, 11 to 4, in the first game but were nosed out, 4 to 3, in the nightcap. Mel Ott hit his thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth homers and Klein made it No. 37 in the first game.

Ray Moss and William Watson Clark gave the Boston Braves only ten hits in two games and Brooklyn took both ends of a bargain bill, 6 to 2 and 10-0.

MEAGRE PROFITS, IF ANY, RESULT FROM LEGION HOMECOMING

War Veterans Disappointed With Financial Backing of Celebration

New London—After a tumultuous three days, the homecoming celebration by the American Legion ended last Monday evening. Legionnaires expressed disappointment in the financial end of their annual undertaking, for their advertisement sales did not reach their expectations and money was tight. Rides and various entertainments provided for ball games were well patronized, but the expense of staging such a pretentious undertaking are very large. Members of the organization hoped that they might be able to play even, but said there would not be much of a profit for all their plans and labor. The parade on Monday morning was witnessed by thousands of residents and visitors to the city. Led by Commander Borchard and W. H. Corcoran the color bearers followed and these were immediately followed by the 12th Field Artillery band of Appleton. The "Fighting Hardware" as in other years, carried itself in the display of a beautiful float, their mascot a Dutch garden mounted upon a car being one of the most artistic creations ever exhibited in the city. Other floats which received enthusiastic praise were The Wolf Valley Dairy company, Cook's pantry, Wadhams, Fat the Fire Man and Miller and Feurist company. Others represented in the parade were Better Motors, Chevrolet, Freighters, Chrysler and International trucks, Grace Motor company, The New London Fire department and the Granger Taxi service.

350 STUDENTS IN SCHOOL FIRST DAY

Teachers Hold Meeting to Get Acquainted With Themselves and Work

New London—With an enrollment which will exceed 350 students in the high school and a large grade attendance, New London public schools opened on Tuesday morning. A teachers' meeting was held in the assembly room on Monday morning in order to introduce new teachers and acquaint them with the technique peculiar to local school routine. Special effort was made to have all students enrolled before the formal opening of school, so that sessions on the first day could fall into the regular routine without loss of time. Six or seven new teachers are on the faculty, and Superintendent R. J. McMahon expresses his belief that the present corps is one of the best ever assembled in any school of the state. Few changes in the school procedure will be introduced beyond the appointment of R. E. Goranson as full time music supervisor. L. N. Kolke will assume the duties of athletic coach, replacing P. C. Berglund and C. Polomic.

READFIELD IN EASY WIN OVER SHIOCTON

New London—In a rather wild exhibition of baseball, Readfield trampled all over Shiocton to the tune of 23 to 10 in a game on Monday afternoon at the athletic park. Shiocton began play with Mayville pitching. He lasted about a third of the game when Block went in, but he fared about the same and Krueger finished the game. Either one of the three pitchers, if they had had any support would have hit it off rather well. Readfield started out with Wing, and when the game was on ice Edminister went in. He was greeted with a homer by Block. Becker pitched the last few innings for Readfield. Augle had a great day at bat as well as making a great catch in the field. The Shiocton boys evidently used up all their energy Sunday when they beat Waupaca.

Dobberts a former New London Edison team infielder umpired the game.

The New London baseball team, playing before a large homecoming crowd, went down to defeat before the Black Creek team on Sunday afternoon. New London made a belated rally to end the game with a 9 to 6 score. Westphal pitched a good game but errors were too numerous for him to overcome. "Pete" struck out three men in the seventh after the Black Creek pitcher had pulled the same stunt. The Black Creek pitcher pulled himself out of a hole in the sixth, when, with the bases loaded and one out he retired the side. In their turn at bat a fluky hit was lost in the weeds and a homer was chalked up to Black Creek's credit.

CHILTON PIONEER OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

A. H. Vahldieck Passes Eighty-fourth Year; Relatives Help Celebrate

Chilton—A. H. Vahldieck celebrated his eighty-fourth birthday on Thursday, members of the family being present. Mr. and Mrs. Vahldieck have been residents of this city for nearly 50 years. Among those from away who were present for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Reuben P. Vahldieck and family of Milwaukee, Mrs. Minnie Gilman and two daughters of Plymouth, and Mr. and Mrs. Beno Meyer of Green Bay. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pinnow, who have been living in the William Diederich home on Washington-st., have moved into the J. Bust Johnson home on Court-st. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have stored their furniture and will tour the southern states with the Johnson Shows this winter. The Rev. G. A. Kaltenbach of Whitefish, Mont., with his family arrived in this city during the past week and held his first service in Trinity Presbyterian church on Sunday morning. The Rev. and Mrs. Kaltenbach will occupy the Manse, adjacent to the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip D. Rupp, who spent the summer in Wisconsin, left for their home in California last week. They went by way of Rochester, Minn., where it was found necessary for Mrs. Rupp to submit to a major surgical operation. Her condition is reported favorable, but it will be necessary for Mr. and Mrs. Rupp to remain in Rochester for a number of weeks. Elsie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Steffes, is at St. Vincent's hospital in Green Bay recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

A car driven by Mr. Arno Schaefer collided with a machine driven by Al Hertel on Saturday afternoon. Both cars were badly damaged. The accident occurred on Main-st. near the Knaut & Tesch store.

The following marriage licenses were issued by the county clerk during the past week: Ervin H. Berg of Calumetville and Miss Frances A. Heller of the town of Brotherton; Victor Brantmeier of the town of Harrison and Miss Marie Kloppeil of the town of Woodville; Lawrence Kollman of Kenosha and Miss Alice Parsons of New Holstein.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jensen, who spent the past seven weeks in Rochester, Minn., returned to their home last week. Mr. Jensen took treatments at the Mayo clinic and is very much improved in health.

Mrs. Rose Finger, who for the past few years has been at the head of the Knaut and Tesch ready-to-wear department, has resigned her position to accept a similar one in the Newton and Wenz store in Beaver Dam. Mrs. Finger and daughter Marcella left for Beaver Dam on Monday.

Mrs. Alvina Rau, for 55 years a resident of this city, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Huntz in Appleton on Saturday night at the age of 82. She had been a guest at the home of her daughter for the past six months.

Alvina Schneider was born in Germany and came to this country with her parents in early childhood, the family settling in Fond du Lac. In 1868 she was married to Michael Rau, the young couple coming to Chilton in 1873. Mr. Rau died in 1925.

Survivors are seven children, Albert of Fond du Lac, George of West Bend, William, Herman and Ernest of this city, and Mrs. Selma Haessley of this city and Mrs. Frank Huntz of Appleton. There are six grand children and one great grandchild, one brother, Ernest Schneider of Thorpe, and one sister, Mrs. Selma Ehnert of Keesville.

The body was brought to this city on Sunday to the Ernest Rau home and the funeral was held from the home at 2 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. The services being conducted by the Rev. G. A. Kaltenbach of Trinity Presbyterian church. Burial was in Hillside cemetery.

FREMONT NINE DROPS DECISIVE BATTLE TO GREENVILLE MOGULS

Grangers Bunch Hits to Emerge from Fracas With 6-4 Victory

Fremont—The Fremont baseball team traveled to Greenville Sunday where they engaged the strong Grange nine. Each group of baseballers garnered a total of seven hits during the hottest nine innings of Central Wisconsin league baseball played this season, and Greenville, by bunching their hits more effectively than the locals, emerged from the fracas on the top end of a 6-4 score. The game was one of the best played this year. Merceus and Sasse supported the locals in the mound and behind the plate. Fremont meets the Waupaca team on the local ball grounds next Sunday. The local state graded and junior high schools opened for the 1929-30 season on Tuesday. A large enrollment was reported. Fremont will have a large representation of high school students at Waupaca this year. Included on the list of Fremont students are Harold Sprindler, Nevada Warnke, John Hofberger, Neva Redemann, Francis Hahn, Irene Knoke, Sarah Rehling, Viola Smith and Edith Schmidt.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown, Channing, Mich., have returned to Fremont and will live in the Neubauer home. Besides Mr. Brown, principal at the local school, the Misses Margaret Geo. Oshkosh, Edith Rilling, Omro, and Cora Iverson, Wittenberg, will return here this week to resume their duties in the grammar, intermediate and primary departments, respectively.

Mrs. N. H. Johnson entertained the members of the Union Ladies Aid society at her home, last Thursday afternoon. Attendees were Mesdames I. E. ## CAWMEN WIND UP SEASON WITH WIN OVER GREEN BAY

Kaukauna—Kaukauna ended its baseball season with a win over Green Bay, 7 to 4, Monday afternoon before a fair sized crowd at the local ball park. Kilgas, dark-skinned pitcher, and formerly of the Little League, carried the team around in flying colors, allowing the laymen eight hits. Kilgas when he made his appearance in the Fox River league Sunday when he pitched the last inning for Kaukauna against Appleton.

Bo Molenda, who made a try at being an iron-man by pitching two games in two successive days, retired in the first of the eighth inning after allowing Kaukauna ten hits and seven runs. The Kaws made a big hit for him in the last of the seventh by getting five hits and scoring four runs.

"Shorty" Wenzel did his bit by getting four hits in four trips to the plate, one being a two bagger. Kilgas also shared in the hitting honors by hitting a home run in the second inning.

Green Bay scored in the first inning after an error by Versteeg. Kaukauna immediately went into the lead in the second inning after Wenzel singled and scored with Mulry who hammered out a home run, taking a determined comeback to Green Bay managed to tie the score 1 to 1. The game was tied 1 to 1 at the end of the seventh. Things went smoothly until the eighth inning when real action began. Five hits and a walk gave Kaukauna four runs. Phillips doubled but was out going home on a single by Kilgas. Vils hit and scored with Kilgas on a single by Ed Smith. Versteeg, who was asked, scored on a hit by Wenzel. Ed Smith scored on a wild pitch by Molenda.

The Green Sox made a desperate attempt to overcome the lead and succeeded in making two runs. The team retired with two men on bases. In the ninth inning Green succeeded in getting two men on the runways, one on a hit and one on a walk.

HOUSE MADISON USED IS TO BE RESTORED

American Institute of Architects to Sponsor Project

Washington, D. C. —(AP)—The Octagon, historic building in which President Madison once lived, is to be restored and developed as a national center of architecture and allied arts. The work, costing $600,000, will be done by the American Institute of Architects, according to D. Everette Waid of New York, chairman of the building committee of the institute. The Octagon was built in 1800 as a colonial residence by Col. John Tayloe, a friend of George Washington. It will be restored, as far as possible, to its original condition. It was an octagonal brick building, Georgian Colonial in design, with a central circular hall and grand staircase. After the White House was burned by the British in 1814 it was used as a warehouse.

Of Interest To Farmers

FARMER MUST HELP HIMSELF TO PROFIT FROM FARM BOARD

Commission Member Outlines Policy of Agricultural Body

BY FRANK I. WELLER

Washington —(AP)— If it is at all conceivable that any farmer in the United States ever felt that all he had to do was sit down and let the federal farm board milk his cows and dig his potatoes, C. B. Denman, board member from Missouri has corrected the error.

Without striking too brave an analogy, the man who made himself famous as president of the National Livestock Producers association implied, in an address at the Iowa state fair August 26, that, like heaven, the federal farm board helps those who help themselves.

Denman recalled the board's characteristic answer to requests for aid. "To Florida citrus fruit growers it said: 'Get together; correlate and combine four forces so that you can operate through a central selling agency, and we will extend the needed help.'"

California raisin growers were told to join their forces and the board would go with them to the bankers. Its answer to the wool growers was: "Get your different groups together in one selling agency with a large enough volume to be a factor in marketing, and a conference with that group will be held later."

Cotton operatives were told that one nationally organized and supported agency with greater volume control and bargaining power could meet the requirements of the agricultural marketing act.

For the grain industry it suggested a great central selling organization. Denman assured the Iowans that the fair that he was a "neighbor farmer from across the state line," and that their tears were as his own except that his, since the war, may have been a bit worse.

He declared the declining consumption of salt meat and lard was costing the farmers $350,000,000 annually and that since Iowa producers more than 20 per cent of the nation's hog supply it is reasonable to assume Iowans have suffered one-fifth of the financial loss. He pointed out that only 5 per cent of Iowa hogs are marketed by any one selling agency and suggested that there in lay a fine opportunity for Iowa farmers to attack their relief problems.

used by President Madison as the executive mansion. Since then it has been used at various times as a government hydrographic office, for private residence, drafting room and as a storeroom. Outfitting the work already done toward restoring it, Mr. Waid said: "The drawing room has been furnished as architects of today believe it might have been furnished in 1800. The big kitchen also has been restored. The fireplace and the bake oven needed only slight repair. The old brick floor required the setting of only a few bricks.

"We have discovered that furnishings and china belonging to the original mansion still are in existence. These the institute hopes to acquire, and to supplement with real utensils of the period.

"The Octagon, when its rooms are completely refurnished, will be an authoritative example of the American home of the period of 1800. One of the treasures which has been preserved is the table on which the Treaty of Ghent was signed by President Madison."

URGES FARMERS TO GIVE DAIRY HERDS SOME GRASS

Pointing to a recent drop in the milk production in county testing associations Gus Sell, county agricultural agent, in a bulletin issued this week urges farmers to supplement pasture feeding with grain feeding. The county agent points out that a cow will give a good supply of milk on good pasture but at this season of the year when pastures are dried up there is hardly enough grass for existence, to say nothing of a profitable flow of milk. Mr. Sell advises that cows be given a boost with corn, oats, barley and other feeds. Roy G. Schrock, tester for the county milk testing association, is ready to discuss the feeding problem with farmers.

Angouleme, France —(AP)— Four persons who appropriated parts of a wrecked airplane near here as souvenirs were arrested and given jail sentences. One man got six days for taking the fuel tank, a woman got four days for taking the dead flier's scarf and two men got two days for breaking off parts of the fuselage.

and careful attention at the time of farrowing prevents disasters that frequently occur at this time. The sow should not be fed for 24 hours after farrowing, then she should be allowed to go on full feed gradually. Water, however, should be kept before the sow during the first day after farrowing.

Exercise in the open air is very beneficial, but the litters should be placed on clean ground where hogs have not previously run for a few years. A clover aftermath is a fine place for the young pigs to run. Portable houses for each litter may be moved out on a clean field to avoid danger of contamination with roundworms.

LARGER LITTERS OF PIGS MAY BE RAISED

Ability of Brood Sows Determines Size of Litters, Experts Say

Larger litters of fall pigs may be raised on Outagamie-co farms. Success with pigs depends upon the ability of the brood sow to produce and raise a large litter, but the best sow without good care is no better than a poor individual. Only prolific motherly sows of good type should be kept in the herd, say animal husbandmen at the state university in a bulletin to Gus Sell, county agent.

Although the sow bred to produce a litter of fall pigs has the advantage of fair weather and pasture, there is a tendency to neglect the fall litter more than is the case when spring pigs arrive. Once the sow herd has been selected and bred, feeding is extremely important. A good grain ration supplemented with tankage, pasture and plenty of fresh water is necessary if large thrifty litters are expected. Skim milk is an excellent supplementary feed.

Three days before the sow is due to farrow she should be separated from the rest of the herd and placed in an individual pen which has been thoroughly scrubbed with hot water and lye. The sow should also receive a scrubbing to destroy worm eggs which may cling to her body and infect the young pigs.

Farrowing rails prevent much of the loss caused by sows lying on pigs.

CHAPTER 23
PRYING EYES

SIR RICHARD, seated in the secret chamber, glanced at the sturdy landlords troubled face. "I'm back again, John, though not for long," said he softly. "Captain Despard is hurt, eh, John?"

"Broke 'is arm, sir, and all shook up, so Doctor Samson tells me. Bout a hour ago, the pore gentleman trips and falls downstairs -- and him no-wise drunk, sir -- which be strange." But Sir Richard held up arresting finger and crossed softly to the judas in the corner and saw:

Master Oldcraft bowed and obedient to the Viscount's gesture, sat down at the table and helped himself to a glass of wine:

"And now, my lord, of t' matter, the business you spoke of this afternoon?"

"Don't shout, man, don't shout!" said the Viscount. He leaned across the table and spoke in rapid, hissing undertone awhile, then Oldcraft questioned him, whispering also:

"... plans all laid -- eh, my lord? ... trustworthy fellows? ... yet I must ... being officer o' the law--"

"Shure," cried the Viscount peevishly, "tis why I'm willing to .... in reason, I'll pay ... the Viscount whispered more softly than ever, "have her safely aboard!"

Master Oldcraft rose and crossing softly to an oak press in adjacent corner, came back bearing pen, ink, and paper. The Viscount hesitated, and finally, switching the pen, wrote what was required, whereupon Master Oldcraft read it through, and folded it into a large pocket-book.

"Merely, my lord, as a matter o' --" he checked suddenly as Doctor Samson entered. The Viscount nodded, muttered and went out, clapping the door behind him.

"Hum!" quoth the doctor. "Fray, sir, what is your business with me?"

"Well, doctor," answered Oldcraft, "you attended Mr. Julian Gufford in his illness, I understand."

"I did, sir."

"And you were with him on the day o' the murder, doctor, how was he then?"

"Strange, sir very odd -- remarkably so!"

"Fray how, doctor?"

"Well, he was highly feverish-- his speech was rapid, his looks wild -- as though he expected to die!"

"You left him at the stile leading into Fallowdene Wood. Now did he say aught of importance, give you any message -- ha?"

"Well, he left with me his pistol. 'Give this,' says he, 'to cousin Richard and bid him know there's more in it than meets the eye' -- or some such nonsense."

"I must charge ye to deliver this pistol to me," Oldcraft ordered.

"Why, but I pledged myself to Sir Richard--"

"Tis no matter, Doctor. Sir Richard being the suspected party, 'tis now your very duty to deliver this pistol up to an officer of the law."

"Then so I will, sir."

"I'll call at your house for it, sir -- say 10 o'clock tonight, sharp."

"John, said Sir Richard, "what time do you expect Black Nick, to-night?"

"Nick were 'e an hour or more -- in the cellar, sir."

"I must have word with him."

"Then, sir ta' care as nobody spies we."

"What matter, John? You forget."

"Ay, I do be gettin' that used to 'ee," nodded John.

So down the narrow stair they crept and along dim-lit passages they sped stealthily, until, rounding sudden corner, they beheld a faint glow, a soft radiance; and now landlord John whistled and thereafter spoke a soft whisper:

"Tis only me, ind-- Sir Richard and me."

Then Black Nick appeared and smiled in joyous greeting.

"Ecod, sir," he exclaimed, staring at Sir Richard. "You look like any."

"Hist!" quoth John in sudden warning. "There goes the bell," and nodding, he vanished.

Sir Richard seating himself on convenient keg, clapped Nick on the shoulder, "this night I ha' business, and you can aid me if you will."

"Why, I'm your man, sir, now as ever."

Then, leaning near, Sir Richard whispered him in such sort that Black Nick stared, smiled, chuckled and suddenly bent himself in a fit of silent laughter.

"... And thus at half past 10 this same night, when Master Titus Oldcraft opened Doctor Samson's garden gate, unseen eyes watched him stride up to the door, knock and be admitted; and when he seated himself thereafter, ... the doctor's cosy parlour, how should he know of the masked face that peered in at him through the keyhole, whose lattice stood open to the summer night?"

"So this," said Oldcraft, turning the silver-mounted pistol over and over, "this is it, eh doctor?"

"That, sir," nodded Doctor Samson, "that is the identical weapon. And I beg you'll handle it with due care, sir."

"It ain't primed," said Oldcraft, opening the pan. "And," he continued, testing barrel with ramrod, "no more it ain't loaded. Least ways, 'tis loaded w' more than powder and ball. Ha' ye such a thing as a stout darling-needle doctor; this ramrod don't serve."

"I've a probe sir," answered the doctor, reaching a case of surgical instruments.

"Watch now, doctor," quoth Oldcraft, and, selecting a certain-shaped probe he thrust it gently down the pistol-barrel, and, after some small difficulty, drew thence a tightly rolled paper.

"Bless me!" exclaimed Doctor Samson, leaning forward in sudden eagerness as Oldcraft laying aside the pistol, smoothed out his paper upon the table, he read it, scratched his head and pushed it towards the doctor.

"Dammee, sir!" he exclaimed. "But it seems-- no same man wrote this!"

Doctor Samson, having scanned the paper, shook judicial head.

"The empty vapourings of a fevered brain, sir!" he pronounced.

Master Oldcraft stared anew at these written words, scowled at them, cursed them beneath his breath yet very heartily, then, folding up the paper, set it away in his large pocket book, thrust the pistol into his girdle and took up his hat, and so Doctor Samson presently lighted him to the door.

Now it was a dark night, for the moon was not yet up, and thus, as Master Oldcraft took his way along the shady lane how should he see or be aware of the dim, stealthy shapes that crept after him, that closed upon him so silently-- nearer -- nearer yet ...

SYNTHETIC DIAMONDS

McPherson, Kas.--It is the plan of Dr. J. Willard Hershey, head chemist at McPherson College, to produce artificial diamonds. He has already produced several artificial stones, one of them four times larger than any real stone now known. He uses a combination of iron filings and sugar, heating the mass to 2500 degrees centigrade. This is suddenly chilled and the diamonds form in the resulting solid mass.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE IS COSTLY PROBLEM IN TALKING MOVIES

Three Versions of Each Film Is Now Necessary Among Producers

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the tenth and final article in a series by Dan Thomas, Hollywood correspondent for Post-Crescent and NEA Service, telling how the talkies are remaking the movies.

BY DAN THOMAS

Hollywood—In the old days of silent films, when a picture was finished that's all there was to it. All that was necessary was to replace the English titles with those of various languages for foreign distribution.

Then the talkies came along and both speaking and silent versions had to be made of all films because of the limited number of theaters in this country which were equipped for sound films.

THEY MAKE THREE VERSIONS

Now three versions of each film must be made because of the ever varying market. There is the all-talking, all-sound version, the sound version with no dialogue and the silent version. The silent film is still used by many of the smaller theaters in this country which can't afford the expensive apparatus required for the projection of sound pictures. It also is used to a considerable extent in foreign countries.

The all-talking version is used almost exclusively in the larger theaters of this country as well as in the larger theaters of all other English speaking nations. But there are theaters in other foreign lands wired for sound films. And they must be served. Consequently there is the third version, with sound synchronization but with printed titles instead of dialogue.

As might be expected, the cost of a production is increased very materially by the necessity for these three versions. In most cases the all-talking film is made first. Practically all of this can be used, minus the sound and dialogue, in the silent version. But many added scenes are required in the silent picture to show things which were covered by a few spoken words in the other. Titles will not do, as there would be so many of them that they would become tiresome.

After the silent version has been completed it must be scored from beginning to end for the foreign sound version. The musical score and sound effects in the talking film cannot be used, as many of the original scenes have been shortened and additional ones put in. Consequently the original musical score would not harmonize with the revamped film.

At present Hollywood producers are wondering whether the latter versions bring in sufficient revenue to warrant the money expended on them. The foreign market particularly is very important and that can't be served with an all-talking film in which the players speak English.

THEY'RE WATCHING FOX
Yet the Fox studios are making nothing but all-talking versions of their films as sort of an experiment. If it is proven that their profits are sufficient from this one version it is quite likely that other studios soon will begin to follow suit.

First National is getting around this difficulty in Irene Bordoni's new picture by having Miss Bordoni sing three of her songs in French as well as in English. By using the French songs in the film, for foreign release they hope that the film will be accepted in French speaking countries, at least, despite its English dialogue.

What the ultimate solution of this problem will be is difficult to predict. There is nothing to do but wait and watch.

Berlin—(F)—Automobile driving, which until recently was considered rather "unladylike" in Germany, is rapidly gaining popularity with women. The number of women obtaining licenses in Berlin has more than doubled in the past two years.

Frightened by a Stubborn Spreading Rash

Los Angeles, Cal.—"My husband had a rash on his body and after using the usual remedies all but one of the spots healed, but that one was very stubborn. We used every kind of a salve we ever heard of, even prescribed treatments, but still the spot spread. I heard of Resinol, and in desperation started to use the soap and ointment faithfully as directed. After using one-quarter of a small jar the spot was completely healed." (Signed)—

Mrs. C. E. Cramer.
The quickness with which Resinol acts in most cases of skin disorder, amazes many people. Itching is usually stopped at once. To adopt Resinol Soap for every day toilet use is to keep the skin clear and soft. At all druggists.
